I.—WORKING OF THE MINTS.

1. Receipt of Gold.—Gold continued to be imported into the country throughout the year and the tenders at the Mints, though less than those of the preceding twelve months, exceeded eight crores of rupees in value. The statement below compares the value and composition of the tenders with those of past years:

Year.	Calcutta.				Bombay.				Total.
	Value of sovereigns and half-sovereigns of current weight.	Value of light and uncurrent sovereigns and half-sovereigns.	Value of bullion.	Total. 1898-99 ...	58,12,905	7,031	60,801	58,80,737	2,03,17,762	3,79,763	11,77,443	2,18,74,968	2,77,55,705

1900-1901 ...	3,06,88,860	26,021	81,20,071	3,88,34,952	1,90,74,375	10,050	2,21,43,788	4,12,28,213	8,00,63,165

The gold bullion received in the year under review consisted of—

	Calcutta. Rs.	Bombay. Rs.
Japanese gold yens	80,62,385	72,86,522
Other foreign gold coin and bullion ...	...	51
Gold of the Indian mines ...	...	55,25,971
Bazaar gold and miscellaneous ...	57,686	93,31,244
Total ...	81,20,071	2,21,43,788

2. Coinage of Gold and Silver.—No gold was coined at either of the Mints. The silver coinage, exclusive of British dollars, was as follows:

	CALCUTTA.	BOMBAY.	TOTAL
	Value in rupees.	Value in rupees.	Value in rupees.
Rupees	5,99,85,801	11,14,56,347	17,14,42,148
Alwar rupees	37,170	...	37,170
Quarter rupees	4,01,455	...	4,01,455
One-eighth rupees	2,13,074	5,54,877	7,67,951
Total ...	6,06,37,500	11,20,11,224	17,26,48,724

The silver coinage of the year was the highest on record, having, apart from dollar coinage which did not exist in 1877-78, exceeded even that of 1877-78 by over a crore.

The demand for rupees which made itself felt in the closing months of the preceding year was accentuated in the early part of the year and was at one time so acute that the Mints had to work under great pressure to keep abreast of it. The Mints were fed mainly with silver purchased in England, but to meet urgent demands silver was on several occasions purchased in India. Altogether, the purchases of silver since the recommencement of rupee coinage in February 1900 have amounted to 50,297,224 ozs. standard in England and 1,91,41,493 standard tolas (=7,113,393 standard ozs.) in India. In addition to this, a large quantity of coined silver was received during the year from the Native States of Baroda, Jodhpore, Nawanagar and Radhanpur, for recoinage into British Indian rupees. The most important of these conversion operations was that of the Babashahi coinage undertaken for the Baroda State, and concurrently the Government of India undertook the withdrawal and recoinage of the Babashahi coins circulating in British territory. The coin issued to Native States during the year in exchange for their coins was Rs. 3,54,71,369; in addition, a sum of Rs. 37,170 was coined for the Alwar State under the Native Coinage Act, 1876.

3. Dollar Coinage.—The coinage of dollars during each of the last five years is stated in the following table:

Years.	Silver coined into dollars. Tolas (rupee standard).	Number of dollars coined.
1896-97	13,922,299	6,135,617
1897-98	48,300,826	21,286,427
1898-99	48,888,833	21,545,564
1899-1900	69,759,048	30,743,159
1900-1901	21,488,248	9,469,991

Dollars were coined at the Calcutta Mint for the first time, one of the local Banks having tendered a small quantity of silver. The number of coins struck was 363,372; with this exception, the whole of the dollar coinage was done at the Bombay Mint.

4. Copper Coinage.—Copper was coined at the Calcutta Mint only, and the coinage consisted of pice, half pice, Straits Settlement cents and quarter cents and Ceylon cents of the aggregate value of Rs. 6,04,694. A few pie pieces were also struck.

5. Operative Losses:

Silver.—The loss on the rupee coinage of the Calcutta Mint for 1899-1900 was adjusted during the year under report; including this, the total loss adjusted gave a rate of Rs. 36·1 per lakh. In the Bombay Mint the loss per lakh was Rs. 24·76 on Government coinage and Rs. 40·69 on dollar coinage.

Copper.—In the Calcutta Mint the operative loss on copper coinage was ·401 in 1900-1901 as against ·274 in the previous year.

6. Revenue and Expenditure.—The revenue and expenditure of the two Mints for the last five years are shown in the following table:

Year.	Revenue.			Expenditure.
	Calcutta.	Bombay.	Total.	Calcutta.	Bombay.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1896-97	22,603	1,76,822	1,99,425	8,02,246	5,57,678	13,59,924
1897-98	2,37,889	11,67,871	14,05,760	8,26,888	7,95,629	16,22,517
1898-99	80,625	7,60,543	8,41,168	7,72,265	8,88,216	16,60,481
1899-1900	33,42,231	9,36,637	42,78,868	8,34,048	8,55,931	16,89,979
1900-1901	1,48,10,320	3,27,79,064	4,75,89,384	10,44,801	12,80,725	23,25,526

The receipts include Rs. 4,71,65,693 on account of the gross gain on silver coinage operations and Rs. 2,15,246 on account of seigniorage on dollar coinage. The net profit on the rupee coinage of the year, though taken as Mint revenue in the first instance, has been transferred to the credit of the Gold Reserve Fund in the general accounts of the Government of India.

The expenditure on salaries and establishments of the two Mints for the year under review compares as follows with the expenditure of 1899-1900:

	Calcutta Mint.			Bombay Mint.			Both Mints.
	1899-1900.	1900-01.	Increase in 1900-01.	1899-1900.	1900-01.	Increase in 1900-01.	1899-1900.	1900-01.	Increase in 1900-01.

Fixed Establishment ...	1,44,030	1,62,793	18,763	1,48,261	1,63,242	14,981	2,92,291	3,26,035	33,744
Temporary establishment and overtime work.	51,729	90,760	39,031	72,179	1,38,527	66,348	1,23,908	2,29,287	1,05,379

The increase of expenditure was necessitated by the exceptionally heavy coinage of the year.

7. Stores.—The cost of stores consumed in the Calcutta Mint was Rs. 1,19,301 against Rs. 50,702 in the preceding year. In the Bombay Mint the expenditure was Rs. 1,80,274 against Rs. 92,228 in 1899-1900. The figure of the Bombay Mint for 1900-01 includes a sum of Rs. 51,731 for apparatus and chemicals obtained from England for the silver (acid) refinery installed during the year; the refinery was required to enable the Mint to deal with Native State coins, and in particular Baroda Babashahis, which are of low touch.

8. Pro formâ charges.—The indirect charges were:

	Calcutta Mint.			Bombay Mint.			Both Mints.
	1899-1900.	1900-01.	Increase in 1900-1901.	1899-1900	1900-01.	Increase in 1900-1901.	1899-1900	1900-01.	Increase in 1900-1901.

The increase in 1900-1901 is due mainly to the average silver balance held, on which interest is charged, having been higher than in the preceding year. The capital sunk in the Mint buildings and plant practically remained unchanged, being Rs. 77,13,648 in the case of the Calcutta Mint and Rs. 37,89,784 in the case of the Bombay Mint.

9. Miscellaneous work.—The amount of miscellaneous work done in the two Mints is shewn in the table below:

Year.	Calcutta Mint.			Bombay Mint.			Both Mints.
	Cost of work done.	Amount realized.	Profit.	Cost of work done.	Amount realized.	Profit.	Cost of work done.	Amount realized.	Profit.

Medals and decorations for the Military Department and for various public institutions, and scales and other miscellaneous work for Government Departments and the public are the chief items which constitute this class of work. The demand was not very large, although the profit was higher than in the preceding year.

10. Offences connected with coinage.—The following figures show the number of offences against the coinage during the last four years:

	Number of cases brought to trial.	Number of persons tried.	Number of persons convicted.
1897	1,101	1,295	852
1898	795	998	582
1899	983	1,183	680
1900	1,370	1,704	1,066

Very close attention is now paid to the subject of counterfeiting: a vigilant watch is kept over professional counterfeiters and more careful examination than formerly is made of coins received in Treasuries, and on Railways, etc., to detect base coins. It is doubtful whether the increases shown in the above table represent correctly the real increase in the practice of counterfeiting. The Government continues to take the keenest interest in this subject.

II.—WORKING OF THE ASSAY OFFICES.

11. Number of assays made.—Apart from a number of miscellaneous assays, the gold and silver assays made during the years 1899-1900 and 1900-1901 were as follows:

Year.	Calcutta Assay Office.		Bombay Assay Office.
	Gold.	Silver.	Gold.	Silver.
1899-1900	1,214	11,523	5,845	33,404
1900-1901	1,094	28,641	6,141	58,233

12. Meltings for standard coinage.—The average fineness per mille of silver meltings for coinage during the year was as follows:

	Calcutta.	Bombay.
Rupees	916·048	916·089
Quarter rupees	915·864	...
One-eighth rupees	915·643	915·484
British dollars	899·237	898·957

13. Parting assays of silver coins.—The average proportion of gold found in the silver pyx coins of the Calcutta mintage was ·247 per mille for rupees, ·379 for quarter rupees, ·392 for one-eighth rupees and ·095 for dollars. Eliminating dollars from the calculation, the silver coinage of the Calcutta Mint is computed to have contained about 5,655 Troy ounces of gold, of the value of £23,977 approximately. In the Bombay Mint, the proportion was ·117 per mille for rupees, ·027 for one-eighth rupees, and ·092 for British dollars.

14. Pyx trials of silver coins.—The results of the pyx trials in the Calcutta and Bombay Assay Offices are summarised in a tabular form as follows:

	Trials for weight.			Trials for fineness.
	Number of trials made.	Total number of coins weighed.	Average weight in grains.	Number of trials made.	Total number of coins assayed.		Average fineness per mille of coins assayed.
					Singly.	In groups after melting.	Singly.	In groups after melting.
Calcutta.
Rupees	601	6,010	180·042	603	6,030	12,060	916·394	916·581
Quarter rupees	13	130	44·983	13	130	1,300	916·386	916·646
One-eighth rupees	9	90	22·537	9	90	1,800	916·194	916·366
Dollars	18	360	416·023	18	90	270	899·963	900·183
Bombay.
Rupees	1,133	22,780	179·989	1,133	5,680	28,325	916·910	916·879
One-eighth rupees	...	...	...	12	...	2,400	...	917·117
British dollars	100	2,000	415·976	100	500	1,500	899·796	899·857

In Calcutta, one rupee in each of two trials was found beyond the legal remedy for weight, and in fifteen different trials single coins were found outside the legal remedy for fineness, but in each case the result of a second pyx proved favourable and the coins were passed. In Bombay, six trials disclosed one rupee in each to be beyond the legal remedy for weight, and three trials disclosed one coin in each to be outside the legal remedy for fineness. Fresh trials in each case, however, gave satisfactory results and the coins were passed.

15. Pyx trials in England for 1899-1900.—The result of the pyx trials made in England showed the average weight and fineness of the British Indian coins from the Calcutta and Bombay Mints and of British dollars from the Bombay Mint to be closely in accordance with the standards laid down for the two classes of coins.

16. Reference standard weights.—The quinquennial verification of the Calcutta Assay Office standard sets of weight pieces was completed during the year under report.

17. The year 1900-1901 was a remarkable one in the history of the Mints. For over six years, from the latter part of 1893 to the early part of 1900, the work of the Mints had been comparatively light, and establishments had been reduced: they were then suddenly called on to face a year of work heavier than that of any year in their history. New workmen had to be engaged and trained by the small staff of trained men on the establishment: with a full complement of skilled and trained labour a heavy rupee coinage requires at all times most watchful and careful supervision, and with a large element of imperfectly trained labour the strain thrown on the whole staff and the difficulty and responsibility of successfully carrying through the heavy coinage were very great. There were also difficulties connected with material, such as crucibles, the stock of which, sufficient only for ordinary requirements, was quite inadequate for the heavy and continuous coinage which had to be undertaken All these difficulties were cheerfully faced and successfully overcome; and the results of the year are regarded with very great satisfaction by the Government of India. His Excellency the Governor General in Council desires to place on record his high appreciation of the most excellent work done by the officers and the members of the establishments of the Mint and Assay Departments. He wishes to convey his special thanks to Colonel Scott, Major Davidson and Colonel Porter, the Masters of the Mints, and to Colonel Milne and Colonel MacCartie, the Assay Masters.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the past seven days, ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 31st October 1901, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather has been exceedingly quiet and settled during the week under review.

Pressure has been steadily high over the Assam Valley and relatively high over the central parts of India and of the Peninsula, while it has been low over the centre and south of the Bay. This area of low pressure has swayed about over different parts of the Bay surface, and, by modifying the direction of the winds over Burma on the one side, and over the Peninsula on the other, has produced the very slight alterations in the weather which the observations disclose.

On the 25th there were scattered showers in Burma and Assam and thundershowers in Malabar and South India. These showers exceeded 1" at Mergui, Lashio, Mercara, Trichinopoly and Mysore and 2" at Calicut. On the 26th the rainfall conditions were unaltered. Thundershowers continued to be reported from Malabar and South India and scattered showers from Burma and Assam. The heaviest rainfall amounts were 1·98" at Moulmein, 1·68" at Mercara and 1·63" at Mysore. There had, however, on this day been pressure changes over the Bay which favoured the extension of north-east winds to the Madras Coast, and, on the 27th, rain had practically ceased over Burma, while it had been general over part of South India and of the South Madras Coast. The heaviest falls reported were 2·85" at Negapatam and 2·63" at Madras. These favourable conditions continued on the 28th, when rain fell over the same areas, but the amounts were smaller, the heaviest having been 1·19" at Mysore and 1·00" at Madras. By the 29th north-easterly winds had disappeared from the Madras Coast and the former rainfall conditions were re-established, viz., scattered showers over Lower Burma and Malabar. These conditions lasted during the 30th and 31st, but with the addition of a few showers on the Madras Coast on the 31st, on which day Madras itself reported 1·05" of rain.

The concluding table shows that rain was received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz., Burma Coast and Wet divisions, the Calicut sub-division, South India and the East Coast (South); the average actual fall ranging from 2·13" in the East Coast (South) to 0·76" in the Burma Wet division. Over the whole of the remainder of India the week was actually or practically rainless and even those divisions which received rain, with the exception of the Mysore sub-division, obtained less than the normal amount. In the East Coast (North) the autumn rainfall has to a great extent failed and unless by the intervention of a cyclonic storm, any important rain now appears unlikely in that region.

The seasonal percentages exhibit no important changes since the preceding week.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, the 26th October 1901.

Madras.—The rainfall was good in the Central districts, except North Arcot and the West Coast; light in the Circars, the Deccan and the South; and none in the Carnatic. Water-supplies generally are sufficient for cultivation, except in parts of the Deccan, and the Carnatic. Ploughing and other agricultural operations are in progress. Standing crops generally are in fair condition, but need rain in the Deccan, the Carnatic and North Arcot. Harvesting of early crops continues with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder for the most part are sufficient. The condition of cattle on the whole is good. Prices are practically stationary. Kitchen inmates—Cuddapah—men, 91; women, 208; children, 328; total, 627: North Arcot—men, 4; women, 27; children, 43; total, 70: Anantapur—men, 8; women, 13; children, 11; total, 32. Test-workers—Cuddapah—men, 892; women, 931; children, 92; total, 1,915. Grand total, 2,644.

Bombay.—Moderate rain fell during the week in parts of Thana, Ratnagiri, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur, Satara, Belgaum, Dharwar and Kanara and there was a slight fall in parts of Thar and Parkar, Kolaba, Khandesh and Bijapur. Crops have been benefited by the recent rainfall in the Deccan and the Karnatak. More rain is urgently wanted in parts of Gujarat, the Deccan, Baroda and Rajkot for standing crops or for spring cultivation. Standing crops have been slightly damaged by rats, locusts or insects in parts of Sindh, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Poona, Bijapur, Belgaum, Wadhwan and Baroda, are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat and Baroda and generally are in good condition elsewhere. Reaping of autumn crops has been completed in Wadhwan, is nearly over in Thana and is in progress in Sindh, Kaira, Surat, the Deccan, the Karnatak and Rajkot. Cotton prospects generally are favourable in Broach, Nasik, Khandesh and the Karnatak and picking has been commenced in Thar and Parkar and Khandesh. Preparations for the spring crops are in progress in parts of Karachi, Shikarpur, Larkana and Khandesh. Spring sowings have been completed in Sholapur, are nearly over in Broach and Belgaum and are in progress in parts of Shikarpur, Hyderabad, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara, Bijapur, Dharwar, Rajkot and Baroda, but have not been commenced in Kaira, owing to insufficient rainfall. The fodder-supply is deficient in parts of Nasik, Sholapur and Dharwar. Agricultural stock generally is sufficient for cultivation. Prices have fallen in twelve districts and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of the principal staples to the normal and to the prices of 1900 remains substantially the same. Prices of cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters—Ahmedabad, 32; Kaira and Belgaum, 34; Panch Mahals, 35; Sholapur, $35\frac{3}{20}$; Ahmednagar, $26\frac{3}{5}$; Poona, $27\frac{3}{10}$; Nasik, $26\frac{3}{40}$; Satara, $30\frac{1}{4}$; and Bijapur, $29\frac{3}{10}$.

Daily average numbers on relief—BRITISH DISTRICTS—on relief works, 67,886; dependants, 12,859; total on works, 80,745. In poor-houses, 5,395; on village relief, 44,942; total on gratuitous relief, 50,337. Figures for the Panch Mahals, Ahmednagar and Belgaum are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—on relief works, 15,062; dependants, 2,057; total on works, 17,119. In poor-houses, 3,039; on village relief, 1,115; total on gratuitous relief, 4,154. Grand total, 152,355.

Bengal.—The weather during the week has been generally clear and almost rainless. The prospects of winter rice in the districts of Bihar and several other districts are not favourable, owing to the want of rain. Cultivation of spring crops is going on, but more rain would have been beneficial for the purpose. No want of fodder is felt, except at Rampurhat in the district of Birbhum. Water is sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in eleven districts, fallen in twelve and is stationary in the rest.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—The weather was clear, except in the districts of Allahabad and Jhansi, where slight rain fell. The need of more rain is still felt in a few districts, especially for late rice, which is reported to have suffered to some extent in Partabgarh, Ballia, Ghazipur and Gorakhpur. Autumn crops are in good condition, except in two or three villages of the Moradabad district, where they have been damaged by grasshoppers. Prospects continue favourable. Autumn crops are being gathered. Sowings of spring crops are going on throughout the Provinces, and germination is reported to be satisfactory. Fields are being prepared for poppy in Kheri and Allahabad, and sowings have been begun in Ballia. Supplies and fodder are adequate. Prices are on the whole stationary, but in some districts indicate a tendency to fall.

Punjab.—There was no rain during the week. Harvesting of autumn crops and picking of cotton continue in some districts. Ploughings and sowings of spring crops are in progress on irrigated areas. Sowings have not been made on unirrigated land to any extent, owing to the want of rain, which is still badly needed. Standing crops on irrigated land are generally in good to average condition. Prospects are very gloomy in Hissar. Elsewhere barani crops have suffered to a great extent, owing to the want of rain. Crops have been damaged by high winds in parts of Gurgaon, and are being damaged by field rats in parts of Ferozepore and Gujrat. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except perhaps Ferozepore. Test-works are likely to be started in the end of November next in Hissar. The Deputy Commissioner of Gurgaon reports that the inhabitants of Rajputana (Bagris) are passing through the district begging. Prices of food-grains are falling slightly. Wheat is selling from 13½ to 21, gram 13 to 20, barley 19 to 25, maize 20 to 26¾, great millet 20 to 23 and bulrush-millet 17 to 25 seers per rupee.

Burma.—LOWER BURMA: Reaping of hillside paddy has been commenced in Tavoy and is almost completed in Akyab. Reaping of early wet weather paddy continues in two districts previously reported. Crop prospects are favourable. UPPER BURMA: Transplanting of wet weather paddy has been completed in Magwe and Shwebo, and reaping of early wet weather paddy has been commenced in Thayetmyo and Magwe. Sowing of miscellaneous crops has been commenced in the Madaya township of Mandalay and of maize in Pakokku and Magwe and sowing of sesamum in Myingyan has been completed. Reaping of hillside paddy continues as before in Pakokku. Most of the crops on alluvial lands have been destroyed on account of the rise of the river and also along both banks of the Samoan river in Kyaukse, where further destruction has been caused by fresh floods. The state of standing crops on the whole is fair. The price of paddy has risen slightly in two districts and fallen similarly in three others. Elsewhere it is unchanged.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been clear and, with the exception of a few light showers in the Hinganghat tahsil of Wardha, the week has been rainless. The absence of rain has caused some damage to late rice on unirrigated fields in all the rice-growing districts whilst the other autumn crops, especially juar, are withering on light soils. The harvesting of early millets and of early rice continues. Cotton-picking has been begun in Wardha. The sowing of spring crops continues, except in Wardha, where it is retarded. Germination is good, but in most districts insects and grasshoppers are damaging the seedlings. Prospects are gloomy in Saugor, especially Kharai, and in the Laon pargana and the Simga tahsil of the Raipur district. Some anxiety for the young plants of winter crops is also felt in Betul. Elsewhere prospects are fair. Prices show a further tendency to fall, but in Damoh the price of rice has risen considerably, from 12 to 8½ seers. The lowest prices are—wheat 16, gram 18, rice 15 and juar 22½ seers per rupee. The highest prices are—wheat 8¾, gram 10, rice 8 and juar 12½ seers per rupee. There are only 28 persons receiving gratuitous relief in Balaghat.

Assam.—The weather was seasonable. More rain is wanted in Goalpara and Kamrup. Plucking of tea is in progress and its prospects have much improved in Darrang, are good in Sylhet and Lakhimpur, poor in Kamrup and fair elsewhere. Harvesting of early rice is nearly finished in Darrang, and its outturn is good. Sowing of pulse and ploughing for mustard are in progress. Sugarcane generally is thriving. The condition of late rice on the whole is good Cutting of jute is nearly finished and its outturn is normal in Sylhet but below average in Goalpara. Fodder is scarce in Cachar and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar and Sibsagar 11, Sylhet, Tezpur and Nowgong 10, Gauhati 9½ and Dhubri and Dibrugarh 9 seers per rupee.

Mysore.—The rainfall was 1 inch and 36 cents in the Civil and Military station, and good rain fell throughout the Province. Standing crops are in good condition in Bangalore, Mysore, Kolar, Tumkur and in parts of Hassan. Horse gram and paddy are being sown in parts. Prospects are encouraging in Bangalore and Kolar; favourable in Mysore and Tumkur; fair in Hassan and improving in Chitaldrug. Prices are steady in Bangalore, Mysore, Tumkur and Chitaldrug; have slightly fallen in Kolar and in parts of Kadur; and have slightly risen in Hassan and in other parts of Kadur. Cattle are healthy, except in parts of Hassan. Water and fodder are available. More rain is wanted in parts of Kadur and in Hassan and Kolar.

COORG: The rainfall was 4 inches 20 cents. Picking of cardamom and reaping of ragi continue. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The rain during the week was 26 cents. Cold weather is setting in. Considerable damage to both juar and cotton by rats is reported. Insects resembling locusts are scattered over the province and are attacking the ears of juar and the sprouting crops. Ploughing operations for winter crops are well advanced. Sowings are in progress. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of juar shows a tendency to fall.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was 31 cents. The total from 1st January is 20 inches 71 cents. Autumn crops are still under harvest. Standing spring crops are in good condition, but in parts young shoots are being spoiled by insects. Rain is badly wanted in parts of the Warangal and Gulbarga divisions. Grain prices have fallen slightly. Relief works were closed in Gulburga on the 6th October. Prices—wheat 5¾, coarse rice 7½ and juar 15 seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana—The rainfall averaged 26 cents. in three districts of Marwar; elsewhere there was none. Operations for the spring crops are in progress in ten States and in Ajmer-Merwara and are at a standstill in Bikaner, Marwar and Kherwara. Standing crops have withered, where unirrigated. Harvesting of autumn crops continues. Prospects are unfavourable. Damage by locusts has been caused in five States and by rats in Kishengarh and the Todgarh tahsil of Merwara. Cattle are in good condition. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are falling in ten States, and are steady elsewhere. The cheapest grain averages 12 to 20 seers per rupee. There are 101 persons on gratuitous relief in Marwar, Sirohi and Jaisalmer.

Central India.—The rainfall was slight in Gwalior, Malwa, Bhopawar and Indore, and none elsewhere. Agricultural operations have been commenced in Gwalior, have been completed in Malwa and are in progress in the other Agencies. The condition of the standing crops is good in Gwalior and Baghelkhand, average in Bhopal and Bundelkhand, indifferent in Malwa and Indore and bad in Bhopal. Crops are being damaged for want of moisture in Gwalior and Indore, by rats in Malwa and by rats, locusts and want of rain in Bhopal. Agricultural stock and pasturage generally are in good condition. Prices are steady in Gwalior, Bundelkhand and Malwa, high in Bhopal, below average in Bundelkhand, slightly falling in Bhopal and fluctuating in Indore. Average prices—Gwalior, 12·12 to 20·5; Bundelkhand, 18 to 22; Malwa, 14¾; Bhopawar, 16; and Indore 6½ to 12 seers the rupee. Numbers gratuitously relieved—Jaora, 68; Rutlam, 44; total, 112.

Baroda.—The rain during the week was 19 cents. Standing crops are in fair condition, but have suffered from paucity of rain. Spring sowings have been commenced. Crops have been damaged by rats, caterpillars and locusts in parts of Baroda and the Kadi division. The condition of agricultural stock is satisfactory. Prices—bajri, 26; juar, 22; wheat, 22, rice, superior, 13; rice inferior, 21 pounds per rupee. Numbers on relief—works—17,822; gratuitous relief, 9,552; total, 27,374.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright and is becoming colder. Prices are normal. Rice sells for 21 seers the rupee. JAMMU PROVINCE: There was no rain during the week. The condition of standing crops is good. Fodder is sufficient. Prices generally are stationary. Wheat sells from 15½ to 30 and maize 27 to 36 seers the rupee.

Nepal.—There was no rain. The weather is bright and warm. Standing crops are in good condition. The price of rice is 9½ seers for the rupee.

READ AGAIN—

Government of India, Order No. 396 R. Stat., dated the 16th July 1900.

READ ALSO—

The following note by the Director of Railway Traffic, dated the 30th September 1901, with abstract returns of accidents to trains, etc., on the open lines of Railway in India for the twelve months ending with the 31st December 1900.

I.—Accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, etc.

Accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, etc., as shown under Abstract No. 4 on pages 2092 and 2093 of the accompanying returns, caused the death of 39 persons and injury to 177 persons, against 31 and 187, respectively, during the previous year. The increase in the number killed was mainly due to the accident on the Bengal-Nágpur railway on the 19th August 1900.

II.—Accidents to passengers from causes other than accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, etc., including accidents from their own want of caution or misconduct; accidents to persons passing over level-crossings, trespassers, and others.

2. Of the 994 persons killed and 554 injured under this heading 83 of the killed and 258 of the injured were passengers, the remainder being persons passing over level-crossings, trespassers, suicides and others. Details of the killed and injured will be found in Abstract No. 2 of the accompanying abstract returns of accidents.

III.—Accidents to servants in the employ of Railway Companies or Contractors caused by the travelling of trains or the movement of vehicles used exclusively upon railways.

8. A brief description of some of the accidents which resulted in loss of life, injury to persons or serious damage to rolling-stock is given below.

East Indian railway.—On the 21st February, a pilot engine coming on to the goods shed line at Allahabad station collided with a wagon standing near the gate, resulting in the latter rolling back into the shed, where it came into contact with another wagon which was being unloaded there, causing injury to four contractor's coolies.

On the 4th March, the Bombay-Howrah Postal special train was totally derailed on the Jubbulpore line between Burgarh and Dabhaura stations. One railway servant was killed, and two railway servants and two native postal sorters were more or less severely injured. There were seven first class passengers only in the train, but they escaped with a severe shaking and a few slight bruises. The rolling-stock was considerably damaged. A detailed report of this accident will be found in Appendix A to the abstract returns of accidents.

On the 3rd June, a pilot engine, while working at mile 840, Agra junction, collided with the engine of a special down goods train standing foul of the crossing of points No. 8. Four railway servants were seriously injured, two having subsequently died.

On the 8th July, a collision occurred at Malwa station between a down and an up goods train, owing to the driver of the former train running against signals. Three railway servants were injured, and the rolling-stock considerably damaged.

On the 26th July, a down goods train was derailed near mile 118, between Ondál and Raneegunge stations, owing to the line having been opened for the purpose of laying a cross-over road. One railway servant was injured and the rolling-stock considerably damaged.

On the 16th September, ten wagons, while being shunted at Brace Bridge Hall, collided with eight empties, which in their turn collided with another rake of eight loaded wagons, forcing the two end wagons over the curved rail dead end and over the side of the jetty into one of Messrs. Mackinnon, Mackenzie and Company's coal barges loading in the river below. Five coolies were injured.

On the 17th October, a shunting engine and the engine of a down pilot collided, while shunting at Asansol station, owing to the driver of the pilot over-shooting the clearance board. One railway servant was injured and the rolling-stock considerably damaged.

On the 25th October, a collision occurred between two down goods trains at Pánagar station, owing to the driver of one of them disregarding signals. One railway servant was injured and the rolling-stock considerably damaged.

Eastern Bengal State railway.—On the 2nd January, between Hill and Chorkai stations on the Northern section, No. 15 up Assam mail train collided with No. 96 down goods train, owing to carelessness on the part of both station masters. Three railway servants were killed, and six passengers and two railway servants injured. The rolling-stock was considerably damaged.

On the 28th December, a collision occurred between engine No. 41 and shunting engine No. 50 in the Beliagháta yard on the Southern section, owing to the former having been signalled to proceed over the cross-over points before the latter had passed clear of them. Two railway servants were killed.

Beng l-Nágpur railway.—On the 8th May, a cyclonic storm blew out of the Khargpur station yard sixty wagons towards Madpur station, causing a collision with the mail train about 3 miles from Khargpur station, considerably damaging the rolling-stock.

On the 19th August, owing to breaches on the line between Baripada Road and Balasore stations, mileage 125 to 126, No. 61 down mail train was derailed at bridge No. 207. One European and ten native passengers were killed, and forty-nine passengers were injured, and nine carriages were completely wrecked. A detailed report of this accident will be found in Appendix B to the abstract returns of accidents.

East Coast State railway.—On the 11th April, a collision occurred between No. 5 up and No. 6 down mixed trains at Kallikóta station, owing to the driver of the latter entering the station yard without having his train under proper control and against signals. Eight passengers and two railway servants were injured.

Oudh and Rohilkhand State railway.—On the 21st August, a collision occurred at Lucknow station between No. 69 up goods and No 22 down mixed trains. A few passengers were slightly, and a railway servant was severely, injured; and one railway servant was killed. The rolling-stock was considerably damaged. A detailed report of this accident will be found in Appendix C to the abstract returns of accidents.

North Western State railway.—On the 28th May, the engine of an up postal special train collided with the engine of No. 19 up mixed train at Ludhiána station through the carelessness of both the Traffic and Locomotive staff. Two railway servants and a mail sorter were slightly injured.

Great Indian Peninsula railway.—On the 23rd February, an up goods train collided with a down transhipment train near Pákni station, owing to the driver of the former disregarding signals. Two railway servants were slightly injured, and the rolling-stock and permanent-way damaged.

On the 9th May, a collision occurred at Tilati station between No. 104 up Ráichúr mail train and No. 261 down goods train, owing to the points having been wrongly set. Two passengers were slightly injured, and the rolling-stock and permanent-way damaged.

Indian Midland railway.—On the 4th April, a bullock cart while crossing the line at level-crossing gate No. 176 mileage $\frac{297}{10}$, between Antri and Gwalior stations, was run over by the engine of No. 1 down mail train. One man riding on the cart was killed, and the cartman seriously injured.

Bombay, Baroda and Central India railway.—On the 11th March, a collision occurred at mile 26¼, between Limkhérá and Jékót stations, between an up special goods train and No. 41 down goods train, owing to the station master of Jékót having given line clear for the latter to leave Limkhérá station while the section was already occupied by the former. Two railway servants were killed, and five injured; and the rolling-stock and permanent-way were considerably damaged.

Rajputana-Malwa railway.—On the 1st April, No. 58 down mixed mail train parted between Adampur and Bhattu stations. The two portions collided with each other, killing one passenger and injuring one mail sorter and two railway servants.

Bengal and North-Western railway.—On the 29th January, the balance box of a ten ton crane which was sent with a break down train to pick up some derailed vehicles at mile $\frac{145}{8}$, between Domingarh and Jagat Bela stations, capsized while being made ready to return to Gorakhpur. One railway servant was killed outright, another died the next day, and two others were slightly injured.

On the 26th April, a collision occurred between No. 91 up goods and No. 4 down passenger trains at Mairwa station, owing to the points having been wrongly set for the latter. Three passengers were injured.

On the 27th April, No. 75 up goods train, while entering Ujiárpur station, was admitted on to the wrong line and collided with No. 78 down goods train standing there. Two railway servants were slightly injured.

On the 7th May, No. 7 up passenger train ran off the line at mile 128 between Semra and Sagauli stations. The engine ran down the bank and turned over on its side, killing one railway servant and injuring three others. The rolling-stock and permanent-way were considerably damaged.

Southern Mahratta railway.—On the 22nd June, while the engine of No. 45 up mixed train was taking water at the temporary water column at mile 364—6, between Narasarávupet and Santamágulúr stations, three carriages, which had probably parted shortly after the train left Narasarávupet station, ran into the stationary portion of the train. Four passengers were slightly injured.

On the 10th August, the engine of No. 63 up goods train was derailed in the cutting at mile 349—7, between Diguvametta and Chalama stations, owing to the train having run into a large quantity of rock which had slipped from the side of the cutting and completely blocked the line. Two railway servants were slightly injured, and the rolling-stock and permanent-way were damaged.

On the 10th September, a ballast train, which had left Khanapur station, returned against signals and collided with No. 19 up goods train, killing four coolies, severely injuring two and slightly injuring three others.

Burma railways.—On the 28th December, No. 142 down goods train ran off the line, between Zibingyi and Thôndaung stations, owing to excessive speed. Two railway servants were killed, and four injured. The rolling-stock and permanent-way were considerably damaged.

RESOLUTION.—With an increase of 1,131 miles, or 4·95 per cent., in the mean mileage worked, and of 6,606,491 miles, or 8·45 per cent., in the train-mileage run, it is noticed that, while the number of train accidents increased by 671, the total number of persons killed thereby exceeded the previous year's figures by 8 only, while the number injured fell from 187 to 177, so that taking into consideration the large increase in the mean mileage worked and train-mileage run, the results are satisfactory. The increase under killed was chiefly due to the accident on the Bengal-Nágpur railway on the 9th August 1900, particulars of which are recorded in Appendix B. to the accompanying abstract returns of accidents. The total number of casualties to both passengers and servants from all causes (train accidents and accidents from causes other than accidents to trains) increased under killed from 863 to 1,265, or by 46·58 per cent., and under injured from 896 to 1,107, or by 13·55 per cent. The large increases were mainly due to suicides, and trespassers, principally famine-stricken people, wandering on to the line at night and do not indicate negligence in the working of the railways.

ORDER—Ordered, that the above note, with the abstract returns and appendices thereto, be communicated, for information, to the Local Governments and Administrations, and to the officers noted in the margin.

Assistant to the Resident in Kashmir for Leh.

up in parts of Shwebo. The price of paddy has fallen in three districts and risen in one, but is stationary elsewhere.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been generally clear with no rain. The harvesting of early rice and of other autumn crops and the picking of cotton continues. Rice is deteriorating in Sambalpur, and insects are doing considerable damage almost throughout the provinces. The sowing of spring crops has been completed in Saugor and Chhindwara, and is reaching completion in most districts. In several districts where the first sowings have been damaged by insects and the heat, some resowing has been necessary. Wheat has germinated well in Damoh and Wardha. In parts of Jubbulpur the spring crops are reported to have withered. The results of the spring sowings are generally unsatisfactory, but the autumn crops are in fair to good condition. Prices have fluctuated slightly. The price of wheat has a tendency to rise and that of rice to fall, as the new rice is now coming into the market. The lowest prices are:—wheat 16½, gram 18⅓, rice 16, and juar 22½ seers per rupee. The highest prices are:—wheat 8¾, gram 11, rice 8, and juar 13⅔ seers per rupee.

Assam.—The rains have ceased. The weather is becoming cold. More rain is wanted in Goalpara. Plucking of tea is in progress, and its prospects are good in Sylhet and Lakhimpur and are fair elsewhere. Harvesting of early rice is nearly finished in Kamrup and Darrang. Sowing of pulse and ploughing for and sowing of mustard are in progress. Reaping of late rice has been commenced in places. Prospects of sugarcane and late rice generally are good. Fodder is insufficient in Cachar and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar 13, Sibsagar 12, Sylhet 11¼, Nowgong 10½, Gauhati and Tezpur 10, and Dhubri and Dibrugarh 9 seers per rupee.

Mysore.—The rainfall was 69 cents in the Civil and Military Station. There was good rain throughout the provinces. Standing crops are in good condition in Mysore, Kolar, Hassan, Tumkur and Shimoga. Horse gram and paddy are being sown in parts, and in other parts ragi and paddy are being harvested. Prospects are good in Mysore and Tumkur, favourable in Shimoga, and fair in Kolar, Hassan and Chitaldrug. Prices are steady in Mysore and Kolar, slightly risen in Hassan and in parts of Kadur, Tumkur and Chitaldrug and slightly fallen in Shimoga and in other parts of Kadur, Tumkur and Chitaldrug. Cattle are healthy, except in parts of Hassan and Tumkur. Water and fodder are available. More rain is wanted in Hassan and in parts of Kadur and Tumkur.

Coorg.—The rainfall was 1 inch 80 cents. Picking of coffee continues. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The week was rainless. Cold weather continues. Crops are in good condition, but have been slightly damaged by rats and locusts in parts of the province. Ploughing operations have been completed. Sowing for winter crops still continues. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are almost steady.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was 29 cents. The total from 1st January is 21 inches one cent. Autumn crops are still under harvest. Spring sowings are almost over. The week's rainfall has benefited the spring crops already sown in the Warangal and Gulbarga Divisions. Grain prices have fallen slightly. Returns of persons employed on relief works in Aurangabad Division not received. Prices—wheat 5¾, coarse rice 7½ and juar 16 seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—There was no rain during the week. Agricultural operations continue everywhere except in Bikanir, Marwar and Kherwara, where they are at a standstill. Autumn crops are bad in the Nimbahera pergannah of Haraoti and Tonk. Damage has been caused by rats in Bikanir and Kherwara and by locusts in parts of Marwar. Crops are being harvested in Jaisalmir, Bikanir, Jaipur, Kishengarh, Alwar and Bharatpur. Cotton picking has been commenced in Jaipur, Kishengarh, and Ajmere-Merwara. Harvests average 10 annas in Jaipur and 6 to 10 annas in Todgarh and 6 annas in Beawar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are in good condition and generally sufficient. Prices are fluctuating in Marwar, rising in Tonk and Jaipur, falling in Jhallawar, Alwar, Dholpur and steady elsewhere. Cheapest prices average 1[illegible] to 2[illegible] seers per rupee. Number gratuitously relieved in Marwar, Sirohi and Jaisalmer, 100.

Central India.—The rainfall was slight in Malwa and elsewhere none. Agricultural operations are in progress in all agencies. Standing crops are in good condition in Gwalior, Indore and Baghelkhand, fair in Bhopal and Malwa, average in Bundelkhand and bad in Bhopawar. Crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Gwalior, by rats in Malwa and by rats, insects and locusts in Bhopawar. The state of agricultural stock and pasturage generally is good. Prices are steady in Gwalior, Indore and Malwa, high in Bhopal, falling in Bundelkhand and Bhopawar, and below average in Baghelkhand. Average prices, Gwalior 10 to 21-1, Indore 7 to 13, Bundelkhand 17 to 24, Malwa 16 and Bhopawar 14½ to 16 seers the rupee. Sowing of opium has been commenced in parts of Gwalior. Numbers gratuitously relieved :—Jaora, 63; Rutlam, 43; total 106. Malaria fever is prevalent in the Bhopawar Agency.

Baroda.—Standing crops have been much damaged by the ravages of rats, locusts and caterpillars in places. Crops are in fair condition, but generally are poor owing to deficient rain. Spring sowing continues, but prospects are gloomy owing to want of sufficient moisture and ravages of rats. Want of water in wells is likely to be felt in certain parts. The condition of agricultural stock is fair. Prices—bajri 27, juar 22, wheat 21, rice superior 13, rice inferior 21 pounds per rupee. Numbers on relief works, 17,040; gratuitous relief, 9,590; total 26,630.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright and is becoming colder. Prices are normal. Rice sells for 20 seers the rupee. JUMMU PROVINCE.—No rain. The condition of standing crops is good. Spring sowings are in progress. Rain is wanted. Fodder is sufficient. Prices generally are stationary. Wheat sells from 16 to 30 and maize 27 to 36 seers the rupee.

Nepal.—Rainfall nil. Weather fine. Lowland rice is being harvested. Price of rice is 9½ seers for the rupee.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the past seven days, ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 14th November 1901, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There has been no important change in the weather over India during the past week. Pressure has been high over North-West and Central India on the one hand, and over Assam and Upper Burma on the other, while it has been steadily low over the Bay and over the east of the Arabian Sea. Towards the close of the week a cyclonic storm formed within the low pressure area over the Bay, and to-day (Thursday) this storm is close to the Madras Coast between Cocanada and Waltair, where pressure is nearly ·2″ below the normal and where a gale from north-east is blowing. It appears probable that the storm will cross the coast and carry rain into the interior districts of India, but the ultimate track of the storm cannot at present be determined.

Rain has been confined during the week under review to the southern half of the Peninsula. On the 11th and 12th there were light showers at one or two places in Lower Burma, but with these exceptions there was no rain during the week over Burma or the whole of Northern and Central India. In the south the rainfall was somewhat irregularly distributed. On the 8th there were showers in Malabar, South India, the Madras Deccan and Ganjam, and general rain in the East Coast (South)—the heaviest falls were 3·75″ at Madura and 2″ at Coimbatore and Nellore. On the 9th the showers were less general in South India and the Deccan and the rainfall was lighter on the East Coast, and from this day onward to the end of the week the rainfall diminished till it practically ceased over Malabar, South India and the Deccan. On the East Coast, on the contrary, the rainfall was heavy in the South division on the 10th, 11th and 12th and in the North division on the 13th and 14th; the largest amounts were: on the 10th 2″ at Negapatam; on the 11th 2″ at Madras and Cuddalore; on the 12th 3″ at Negapatam and on the 14th over 2″ at Waltair and Gopalpur.

The concluding table shows that rain was received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz.:—Burma Coast, both sub-divisions of the East Coast (North), both sub-divisions of the West Coast, the Bellary and Hyderabad sub-divisions of the Deccan, both sub-divisions of South India and the South division of the East Coast; over the whole of the remainder of India the week was rainless.

The week's rainfall was slightly in excess of the normal in both the sub-divisions of the East Coast (North), in the Calicut sub-division of the West Coast, in the Hyderabad sub-division of the Deccan and the Madura sub-division of South India, while in the South division of the East Coast it was largely in excess.

The seasonal rainfall is now normal over a large part of the Peninsula, elsewhere there has been practically no change in the seasonal conditions.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

PROCEDURE TO BE OBSERVED BY INDIAN STUDENTS PROCEEDING TO JAPAN FOR THEIR EDUCATION.

No. 481-492.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Education)—under date Calcutta, the 15th November 1901.

RESOLUTION.

THE Government of India have recently received intimation from the British Legation at Tokyo, that orders have been issued by the Education Department of the Japanese Government, to the effect that applications on the part of foreign students for admission to schools in Japan must be made through the Diplomatic or Consular Representatives of their country in Japan. It has been suggested to the Government of India that it would be a great convenience to His Majesty's Legation at Tokyo, if Indian students who desire to prosecute their studies in Japan were provided with recommendations from a recognized authority in India, as it is undesirable that applications should be made to the Japanese Education Department without some guarantee as to the character and antecedents of the persons on whose behalf such applications are made.

The Governor General in Council accordingly desires to make it known that Indian students proceeding to Japan for their education should, before their departure from India, provide themselves with an authoritative certificate of identity in the form appended to this Resolution signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India, and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. The District or Political Officer will endorse on the certificate of identity his opinion whether the person is a British subject "by birth" or "by naturalization" (or a subject of a Native State) or not. Quarterly returns of the certificates granted will be submitted to the Local Governments and Administrations who will forward them to the Government of India for transmission to His Majesty's Legation at Tokyo. But as it is necessary that no delay should occur, the District or Political Officer when granting or countersigning a certificate will at the same time send a copy of the certificate to His Majesty's Legation direct.

Local Governments and Administrations are requested to take steps to secure that all reasonable facilities are given for obtaining certificates of identity, and that wide publicity is given to these orders.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Ordered, also, that a copy be sent to the Foreign Department for information and communication to Political Officers.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, the 9th November, 1901.

Madras.—The rainfall was fair in the Circars and the Deccan and heavy elsewhere. Water supplies are sufficient for cultivation except in parts of the Deccan. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting are going on. Standing crops generally are in good condition. Harvesting of early crops continues with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder generally are sufficient. The condition of cattle on the whole is good. Prices are stationary or falling, but are still above warning rates. Kitchen inmates—Cuddapah—men, 121; women, 205; children, 105; total, 431. North Arcot—men, 4; women, 28; children, 49; total, 81. Test workers—Cuddapah—men, 720; women, 795; children, 254; total, 1,769: Grand total, 2,281.

Bombay.—Slight rain fell during the week in parts of Kolaba, Ratnagiri, Kanara, the Karnatak, Sholapur, Satara and Ahmednagar. More rain is wanted in parts of Gujarat, the Deccan, Bijapur, Belgaum and Rajkot for standing crops or for spring cultivation. Crops have been slightly damaged by rats, locusts or insects in parts of Sindh, the Panch Mahals, Broach, Surat, Kolaba, Khandesh, Satara, Bijapur, Rajkot and Baroda; are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts at Ahmedabad, Surat and Baroda and generally are in good condition elsewhere. Reaping of autumn crops is nearly completed in Hyderabad, Kolaba, Ahmednagar, Satara and Sholapur, and is progressing in parts of Sindh, Kaira, Surat, the Konkan, the Karnatak, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Rajkot and Baroda. Threshing has been commenced in parts of Hyderabad, Kaira and Ahmednagar. The estimate of the outturn of autumn crops generally is good in the Konkan and the Karnatak, fair in Sindh and the Deccan and moderate to poor in Gujarat. Cotton prospects generally are fair in Broach, Surat, Nasik, Khandesh and the Karnatak, and picking continues in Khandesh. Preparation for the spring are in progress in parts of Karachi and Shikarpur. Spring sowings are nearly over in Surat, Ahmednagar and Satara, and are in progress in Shikarpur, Hyderabad, Larkana, Upper Sindh Frontier, Kaira, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Dharwar, Wadhwan, and Baroda. The fodder supply is deficient in parts of Sholapur and Dharwar. Agricultural stock generally is sufficient except in parts of Nasik. Prices have fallen in four districts and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of the principal staples to the normal and to the prices of 1900 remains substantially the same. Prices of cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at Head-Quarters—Ahmedabad, 32; Kaira, 38; Panchmahals, 33; Sholapur, $42\frac{11}{20}$; Ahmednagar, $32\frac{1}{4}$; Poona, $27\frac{3}{10}$; Nasik, $27\frac{3}{8}$; Satara, $33\frac{23}{40}$; Bijapur, $29\frac{3}{10}$; Belgaum, 34.

Daily average numbers on relief—British Districts—on relief works, 34,997; dependants, 6,051; total on works, 41,048. In poor-houses, 3,102; on village relief, 27,883; total on gratuitous relief, 30,985. Figures for Sholapur and Belgaum are incomplete. Native States on relief works, 7,634; dependants, 705; total on works, 8,339. In poor-houses, 2,246; on village relief, 458; total on gratuitous relief, 2,704. Figures for Palanpur, Rewakantha, Aundh and Phaltan are incomplete. Grand total, 83,076.

Bengal.—There was no rain during the week except very light showers in Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, and Cuttack. Early cessation of rain has prejudicially affected the prospect of winter rice and spring crops in Bihar, and also in some other parts of the province. Sugarcane is being pressed. Fodder and water generally are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in nineteen and is stationary in the rest.

North Western Provinces and Oudh.—The weather during the week has been bright throughout the provinces. The harvesting of the autumn and the sowings of the spring crops still continue and are nearing completion in Dehra Dun, Bareilly, Agra, Etah, Budaun, Shahjahanpur, Hardoi, Bara Banki, Rai Bareli, Cawnpore, Jaunpur, Jalaun and Hamirpur. The late rice crop continues to suffer for want of rain in a few districts, but irrigation is being resorted to wherever practicable. The spring crops are reported to be germinating well. Poppy is being sown in Budaun, Hardoi and Sitapur. Sugarcane is in good condition and pressing has been commenced in Meerut. Locusts appeared in Cawnpore, but did no damage. Food supplies and fodder are adequate. Prices are generally stationary, but the tendency towards easier rates noticed last week continues.

Punjab.—There was no rain. Harvesting of autumn crops continue. It has nearly been completed in Gurgaon, Amballa, Amritsar, and Rawalpindi. Cotton is being picked in irrigated areas of most districts. Sowings of spring crops continue on irrigated areas. No sowings have generally been made on unirrigated lands on account of want of rain, which is still very badly needed. The outturn of irrigated autumn crops is average and that of unirrigated decidedly below average. Unirrigated autumn crops have totally dried up in Hissar, and sugarcane and cotton crops are withering in Sialkot for want of rain. Rats are damaging crops in part of Umballa and Ferozepore. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient throughout the Province except in parts of Karnal. Test works are likely to be started in Hissar. Bikaniris are still passing through Gurgaon and Hissaris and Bagris through Karnal in search of work or begging. Prices of food grains generally are unchanged, only slight fluctuations occurring in some districts. The price of wheat is rising in Hissar, Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan and falling in Gurgaon, Amritsar, Gujrat and Rawalpindi, and that of gram is rising in Gurgaon and Mooltan and falling in Amritsar, Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan. Wheat is selling from $13\frac{1}{2}$ to 21 seers, gram $17\frac{1}{4}$ to 25, maize 15 to $28\frac{1}{8}$, great-millet $20\frac{1}{2}$ to 23, bulrush-millet $12\frac{1}{4}$ to 28 and barley $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 28 seers per rupee.

Burma.—LOWER BURMA.—The prospects of the paddy crop continue good in all districts. UPPER BURMA.—Reaping of hill-side paddy has been completed in Bhamo. Reaping of early wet weather paddy continues in Thayetmyo, Myitkyina, Shwebo and Southern Shan States, and has been commenced in Bhamo. Cultivation of alluvial soil and sowing of miscellaneous crops are progressing. The state of standing crops is fair to good. A little more rain is needed in parts of Myingyan, and paddy and sessamum plants are drying have not been disarmed. Such a license will authorize its holder to carry the arms described in the license on occasions when they may be reasonably required for the purposes named in the license. DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, the 16th November, 1901.

Madras.—The rainfall was heavy on the West Coast, and in parts of the Circars, good in the Carnatic, the South and the Nilgiris, fair in the central districts and light elsewhere. Water supplies are sufficient for cultivation except in parts of the Deccan. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue. Standing crops generally are in good condition. Early crops are being harvested with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are sufficient. The condition of cattle on the whole is good. Prices generally are stationary or falling but are still above warning rates. Kitchen inmates—Cuddapah—men, 67; women, 190; children, 280; total, 537. North Arcot—kitchens closed. Test workers—Cuddapah—men, 761; women, 799; children, 93; total, 1,653; grand total, 2,190.

Bombay.—Very slight rain fell during the week in parts of Nasik, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, the Karnatak and Kanara. More rain is wanted in parts of Gujarat, the Deccan, the Karnatak and Rajkot for standing crops or for spring cultivation. Crops have been slightly damaged by rats or locusts in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh, Poona, and Belgaum, are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Ahmedabad, Surat, Rajkot, and Baroda and generally are in good condition elsewhere. Reaping of autumn crops is nearly completed in Kolaba, Ratnagiri, Satara, and Sholapur, and is progressing in parts of Sindh, Kaira, Thana, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Bijapur, Belgaum, Kanara, and Baroda. Threshing is in progress in parts of Shikarpur, Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar, Kaira, Thana, Kolaba, and Ahmednagar. Estimates of outturn of autumn crops generally are good in the Konkan and the Karnatak, fair in Sindh and the Deccan and moderate to poor in Gujarat. Cotton prospects generally are fair in Broach, Surat, Baroda, Nasik, Khandesh, the Karnatak, and picking continues in Khandesh. Preparations for the spring are in progress in parts of Sindh, but have been retarded in parts of Kaira and the Panch Mahals for want of rain. Spring sowings are almost completed in Khandesh, Satara and Dharwar and are in progress in parts of Kaira, Thana, Nasik, Poona, Belgaum, Wadhwan and Baroda. The fodder supply is deficient in parts of Sholapur and Dharwar. Agricultural stock generally is sufficient except in parts of Nasik where the deficiency is met from tagavi grants.

Daily average numbers on relief—BRITISH DISTRICTS, on relief works, 26,591 ; dependants, 4,214 ; total on works, 31,805. In poor-houses, 2,605 ; on village relief, 18,462 ; total on gratuitous relief, 21,067. Figures for Belgaum are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—on relief works, 11,722 ; dependants, 692 ; total on works, 12,414. In poor-houses, 2,395 ; on village relief, 394 ; total on gratuitous relief, 2,789. Grand total 68,075. Prices have fallen in nine districts, risen in two districts and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of the principal staples to the normal and to the prices of 1900 remains substantially the same. Prices of cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters—Ahmedabad, 36; Panch Mahals, 35; Kaira, 38 ; Sholapur, $41\frac{5}{8}$; Ahmednagar, $32\frac{1}{5}$; Poona, $27\frac{3}{10}$; Nasik, $28\frac{1}{4}$; Satara, $35\frac{7}{20}$; Bijapur, $34\frac{1}{2}$; Belgaum, 34. The physical condition of the people is reported to be good, fair or normal in localities of greatest distress.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was heavy and general in Orissa where it has improved the prospects of standing crops. Light showers are also reported from certain districts of Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur. Prospects are not satisfactory in Bihar for want of rain. Rain is also wanted in Burdwan, Birbhum, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Rajshahi, Dinajpur and Bogra. Harvesting of winter rice has been commenced in places. Sowing of spring crops and poppy is in progress. Fodder and water are adequate. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in 22 and is stationary in the rest.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—The weather has been seasonable. The reaping of autumn crops continues and has been completed in Moradabad. Threshing is in progress in Hardoi and Mirzapur. The sowing of spring crops is nearing completion in Bareilly, Muttra, Sitapur, Bahraich, Partabgarh, Azamgarh, Basti, Gorakhpur, Cawnpore and Hamirpur. In parts of Muttra and Mirzapur germination is reported not to have been good owing to want of rain. Standing crops are generally doing well with some exceptions in Benares and Ballia. Spring crops are being irrigated and prospects continue to be good. The cultivation of opium is going on. Markets are full and fodder is procurable. Prices are practically stationary with a continued tendency towards lower rates.

Punjab.—There was no rain during the week. Harvesting of autumn crops is going on. This work has been nearly completed in Umballa and Gujrat. Cotton is being picked in some districts. Sugarcane pressing has been commenced in Amritsar. Sowings of spring crops continue on irrigated areas, but no sowings have generally been made on unirrigated areas for want of rain which is still badly wanted. The outturn of irrigated autumn crops is said to be good to average and that of unirrigated poor. Sugarcane and cotton crops on unirrigated lands are withering for want of rain in Sialkot. Rats are damaging the crops in parts of Umballa. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except in parts of Karnal. Test works are likely to be started in Hissar. Bikaniris are still passing through Gurgaon, and Hissaris and Bikaniris through Karnal in search of work and begging. Some famine-stricken Bikaniris have come in to the Mooltan district also. Prices of food grains are generally unchanged, but the price of wheat has somewhat risen in Ferozepore and Gujrat and fallen in Hissar and Rawalpindi. The price of gram has also fallen in Hissar, Rohtak, Gurgaon, and Rawalpindi. Wheat is selling from 14 to 21 seers, gram $17\frac{1}{4}$ to 25, barley 18 to 24, maize 20 to $26\frac{1}{2}$, great millet 19 to 27 and bulrush millet 16 to 27 seers per rupee.

Burma.—LOWER BURMA—reaping has been commenced in some districts. Prospects are good. UPPER BURMA—sowing of miscellaneous crops is progressing in Pokokku, Minbu, Mandalay, and Kyaukse. Ploughing and planting for juar beans, peas and gram has been commenced. Plucking of cotton continues in Meiktila, Myingyan, and Sagaing. The state of standing crops is fair but more rain is wanted in Sagaing, Meiktila and Pakokku. In Shwebo late sowings of paddy are withering for want of rain. In Mandalay juar is for the most part stunted and sesamum more or less a complete failure. Considerable reduction of revenue owing to drought is expected in the Mandalay and Shwebo districts. The price of paddy has fallen in five districts and risen in two: elsewhere it is stationary.

Central Provinces.—There has been no rain with the exception of a fall of four cents in Bilaspur and 25 cents in Sambalpur. The harvesting of early rice and of other autumn crops and picking of cotton continues. The sowing of spring crops has been completed in Damoh and Wardha and is reaching completion elsewhere. Germination is only fair in Damoh and Wardha. Insects are doing considerable damage to the young plants almost throughout the provinces and resowing has been necessary in places. Damage by rats is also reported from Betul and Nagpur. The prospects of wheat are bad in Betul. The prospects of autumn crops are generally fair to good, but the spring seedlings are in a backward condition and rain is needed. Fodder and water are ample. Prices show a tendency to fall. The lowest prices are—wheat 16, gram 19¼, rice 16, and juar 22½ seers per rupee. The highest prices are—wheat 8¾, gram 11, rice 8 and juar 13⅔ seers per rupee.

Assam.—The weather is getting cold. More rain is wanted in Goalpara. Plucking of tea is in progress. Its prospects are good in Sylhet and Lakhimpur and fair elsewhere. Harvesting of early rice has been finished in Kamrup, but still continues in Darrang. Its outturn is generally good. Sowing of pulse and ploughing for and sowing of mustard are in progress. Reaping of late rice continues. The prospects of sugarcane and late rice generally are good. Fodder is insufficient in Cachar and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Sylhet, 15¾, Silchar 13, Sibsagar 12, Nowgong 11½, Gauhati and Tezpur 10, and Dhubri and Dibrugarh 9 seers per rupee.

Mysore.—There was slight rain in the civil and military station. Good rain fell in Kadur. Standing crops are in good condition in Bangalore, Mysore, Tumkur, Hassan and Shimoga. Ragi and paddy are being harvested in various parts. Prospects are good in Bangalore, Mysore and Tumkur, fair in Hassan, Kolar, and Chitaldrug and favourable in Shimoga. Prices have fallen slightly in Bangalore, Mysore, Kolar, Hassan Chitaldrug and in parts of Kadur and have risen slightly in Tumkur, Shimoga and in other parts of Kadur. Cattle are healthy except in parts of Kadur, Tumkur and Hassan. Water and fodder are available. More rain is wanted in Hassan and in parts of Bangalore and Kolar. COORG.—The rain fall was 73 cents. Picking of coffee continues, prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The week was rainless and the weather cool. Crops are generally in good condition. Sowings for winter crops are well advanced. Fodder and water are adequate. Prices are almost steady.

Hyderabad.—The rainfall during the week was three cents. The total from 1st January is 21 inches four cents. Crops on irrigated areas are under harvest with poor results. Standing spring crops are in fairly good condition. Grain prices are falling. Relief works were closed in Aurangabad on 9th November. Prices—wheat 5¾, coarse rice 7⅝, and juar 16¾ seers per hali rupee.

Rajputana.—There was no rain. Spring sowings continue everywhere except in Bikanir, Marwar, Kherwara and in Ajmer-Merwara on very reduced area. The state of autumn crops is bad in the Nimbahera parganah of Tonk. Harvesting continues in Bikanir, Jaisalmer, Jaipur, and Kishengarh. Standing crops are in fair condition in Kotah, Jhallawar, Alwar, Dholepur, and Ajmer-Merwara. Damage has been caused by rats in Bikanir, one parganah of Jaisalmer and Kherwara. Rats damaged cotton in parts of Ajmer-Merwara. The state of agricultural stock and fodder is good and sufficient. Prices are rising in Bikanir, falling in Sirohi, Mewar, Bundi, Kotah, Jhallawar, and Jaipur and are steady elsewhere. The cheapest prices average 11—4 to 25—5 seers per rupee. Numbers gratuitously relieved in Marwar, Sirohi, and Jaisalmer, 97.

Central India.—No rain fell during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress in all Agencies. Standing crops are in good condition in Gwalior, Baghelkhand and Indore, fair in Bhopal, Malwa and Bhopawar and average in Bundelkhand. Crops have been damaged by locusts and want of moisture in parts of Gwalior, by rats in Malwa and by rats, insects and want of rain in Bhopawar. The state of agricultural stock and pasturage generally is good. Opium sowings are in progress in parts of Gwalior; they are much restricted in Bhopawar. Land is being prepared for opium in Indore. Baroda.—Crops are in fair condition but in many places they have withered. Harvesting of autumn and sowing of spring crops continue but the outturn will be much below the average owing to the ravages of rats, catterpillers, locusts and want of moisture. The condition of agricultural stock is fair. Prices—bajri 29, juar 22, wheat 21, rice—superior 13, inferior 21 pounds per rupee. DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the past seven days, ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 21st November 1901, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The cyclonic storm which lay close to the Madras Coast between Cocanada and Waltair on Thursday the 14th, did not cross the coast but turned north-eastward and travelled parallel to the coast as far as False Point which it reached on the 17th. It then crossed the head of the Bay and broke up over Upper Burma during the 18th. It occasioned rain over Ganjam, Orissa, the east of the Central Provinces, Chota Nagpur, Deltaic Bengal, Cachar and Burma. The weather has been generally quiet over other parts of the country but on the 18th and 19th a depression was shown over the south-west of the Bay and the scattered showers which had prevailed over the south of the Peninsula from the 15th to the 17th became heavier and more general and this condition continued until the close of the week.

The above shows that during the week under review rain has been received over Burma, Bengal, Assam, the East Satpuras and the southern half of the Peninsula. On the 15th there were showers over Deltaic Bengal, the East Coast (North) and the south of the Peninsula: the largest amounts reported having been 3·99" at Waltair, 2·66" at False Point and about 2" at Gopalpur and Cocanada. On the 16th the rainfall distribution was very similar, but the fall was heavier, thus False point reported 8·86", Gopalpur 6·55" and Cochin 5·57". On the 17th rain was more general and heavier over Burma and Bengal but had become much lighter over the south and east of the Peninsula: the largest amounts reported were 3·13" at Chaibassa and 1·65" at Saugor Island. On the 18th rain continued general over a large part of Burma and Bengal—Chittagong reporting a fall of 4·05" and Akyab of 1·72" while at the same time the fall had become heavier over the south of the Peninsula where Trichinopoly, Salem and Trincomalee reported over 2". On the 19th and 20th light showers were reported over Burma, but the rain had ceased over Bengal while on the 21st rain had ceased all over this area. In the south of the Peninsula showers continued right up to the close of the week, the heaviest falls having been as follow: on the 19th at Salem 2·28"; on the 20th at Cuddalore 2·03" and on the 21st at Trivandrum 1·23".

The concluding table shows that rain was received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz.—all the Burma divisions, the Bengal division, the Brahmaputra Valley division, the East Coast (North) division, the Ranchi sub-division of the East Satpuras, the Calicut sub-division of the West Coast, the Bellary sub-division of the Deccan, the South India division and the East Coast (South) division. The average actual rainfall varied from 0·37" in the Cuttack sub-division to 0·10" in the Brahmaputra Valley division. Over the whole of the remainder of India the week was practically or actually rainless.

The rainfall was in excess of the normal over the greater part of Burma and Bengal as well as over the north of the East Coast and the Ranchi, Calicut, Bellary, Mysore and Madura sub-divisions; the excess was nearly 5" in Cuttack, 4" at Waltair and over 1" in Narayanganj, Calicut and Madura.

There has been no important change in the seasonal percentages except in the East Coast (North) where the deficiency has sensibly diminished.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

REVIEW OF THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CIVIL VETERINARY DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1900-1901.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Department of Revenue and Agriculture,—No. 18—164-4, dated 16th November 1901.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Civil Veterinary Department in India for the official year 1900-1901.

RESOLUTION.

The operations of the Civil Veterinary Department have suffered in a marked degree from the effects of the succession of unfavourable seasons, the influence of which during the year under report is apparent in the increased cost of feed and keep of the stallions, the low fecundity of the mares and the decline in business at Horse and Cattle Shows.

2. There were no changes of importance in the number of stallions maintained by Government. The number actually at stud included 291 horse stallions, and 378 donkey stallions provided from Imperial funds, and 176 horse and pony stallions provided from Provincial and Local funds. The average number of mares served per stallion (48 for horses and 57 for donkeys) indicates that breeders appreciate the advantages which Government offers them. But the actual results in produce were disappointingly small, the number of foals recorded as dropped giving an average of only 12·6 per horse stallion. It may be that the number of permitted coverings was illicitly exceeded, and also that the results are understated by incomplete information. But it is to be observed that the produce of pony and donkey stallions was equally small. It is shown that the quality of the stallions which were purchased during the year was not altogether satisfactory. The number of country-bred remounts purchased during the year was 1,297, of which, however, only 89 were taken for British Cavalry and Artillery. Purchases of mules were on a much larger scale, but success in mule-breeding seems to be endangered by the very indifferent types of donkey stallions now procurable in the European market. China may possibly supply a better class, and the Inspector-General has done well to direct his enquiries thither. An endeavour is being made to meet requirements by local breeding. The Government of India have now under consideration a number of important reforms in the scheme of operations which are undertaken for the encouragement of horse-breeding, and further comments on these results are unnecessary.

3. A prominent feature in the veterinary history of the year has been the undertaking of local experiments on a considerable scale with inoculation as a preventive of rinderpest. Measures have been adopted which will, it is hoped, lead to a very substantial development of this treatment during the current year, and will bring within reach of a large proportion of the population the benefits which are promised by the results of a long series of experiments at the Muktesar Laboratory.

4. Veterinary subordinates treated cattle in 32,501 villages, more than three-fifths of which, however, belonged to the Punjab, North-Western Provinces and Burma. The number of cattle which came under treatment in villages is put at 183,170, but it is observed that more than half of the number are shown as suffering from unclassed and, presumably in great measure, trifling disorders. Treatment in dispensaries is still on an inconsiderable scale, and these institutions generally have yet to gain the confidence of the people, though they show much better results in Bombay than elsewhere, this Presidency contributing 20,499 out of the total number (52,846) of cases.

5. It is only in the Punjab and in Burma that Veterinary establishments are as yet on at all an adequate scale, and the strengthening of the staff of Veterinary Assistants is a necessary preliminary to useful work. A scheme for effectively reinforcing the staff of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh was sanctioned by the Government of India during the year under report.

6. The results of the Veterinary instruction which is given at Lahore, Calcutta and Ajmer are generally satisfactory, and large numbers of passed students have found employment in South Africa. Only six students passed out from the Veterinary College at Bombay.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the past seven days, ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 28th November 1901, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

During the week under review thunderstorms have given more or less heavy showers to the south of the West Coast and light showers to parts of South India and the extreme south of the East Coast: the heaviest falls were 1·51″ at Trivandrum on the 23rd, 1·44″ at Cochin on the 24th and 1·56″ at Tinnevelly and 3·01″ at Trivandrum on the 25th. The principal rainfall of the week was, however, that which accompanied the cyclonic storm of the 24th to the 27th. This storm apparently formed over the eastern half of the Bay and travelling along a curved course reached the head of the Bay on the morning of the 26th and filled up over East Bengal during the 27th. Rain due to this storm commenced in Lower Burma on the 24th, when Diamond Island reported 2·87″. Rain appeared over Bengal on the 24th and 25th; the fall was light on the former date, but on the 25th Barisal reported 1·00″ and Saugor Island 1·24″. On the 26th moderate to heavy rain had fallen over Orissa, Bengal and Assam: False Point reporting 5·25″, Mymensingh 3·62″, Barisal 3·50″ and Jessore, Tezpur, Narayanganj, Balasore, Sibsagar, Dibrugarh and Saugor Island between 1″ and 2″. On the 27th when the cyclone had reached East Bengal and almost filled up, the heaviest rainfalls reported were: Bogra 3·72″, Mymensingh 3·44″, Tezpur 2·36″, Dhubri 2·26″, Berhampore 2·04″ and Burdwan 2·02″. On the 28th rain had practically ceased.

The concluding table shows that during the week under review more or less rain was received over the Burma Coast and Wet divisions, over Bengal, over the Brahmaputra Valley, over the Dinajpur and Darbhanga sub-divisions of the East Himalayas, over the East Gangetic Plain, over the north of the East Cost, over the Ranchi sub-division of the East Satpuras, over the Calicut sub-division of the West Coast, over the Madura sub-division of South India and over the south of the East Coast. The average actual rainfall varied from about 3" in Bengal, Assam, the Burdwan sub-division and the Cuttack sub-division to about ·1" in the Patna sub-division and the East Coast (South) division. Over the whole of the remainder of the Indian area, including the Dry Area of Burma, the West Gangetic Plain, North-West India, the central parts of India and the greater part of the Deccan and of the West Coast the week was absolutely or practically rainless throughout.

The rainfall of the week was in excess of the normal over the whole of the north-east of the Indian area and the south of the West Coast, but was more or less deficient elsewhere. The excess was greatest in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz., Narayanganj (+3·12"), Calcutta (+2·94"), Brahmaputra Valley (+3·29"), Burdwan (+3·17") and Cuttack (+3·09"), while the deficiency was greatest in the East Coast (South) (−2·88").

The present return is the last referring to the monsoon period of 1901, a fresh rainfall period commencing with the next week. The figures in the second-half of the table give comparative rainfall data for the entire monsoon period. They show that over Burma, Bengal, Assam, a large part of the East Himalayas and of the East Gangetic Plain, the East Satpuras, the Jhansi sub-division of Central India, the West Coast, a large part of the Deccan, South India and the south of the East Coast the rainfall of the whole season has varied by less than 20 per cent. from the normal and has hence been above the average. They show that in all other places the season's fall has been short of the normal; the deficiency was greatest and more than 90 per cent. in Baluchistan while it was 60 per cent. or more in the Rajkot sub-division of Gujarat and the Indore sub-division of Central India; it was 50 per cent. or more in the North-West Dry Area and the Ahmedabad sub-division of Gujarat and was more than 25 per cent. in the Patna sub-division, the Cawnpore and Lahore sub-divisions, the Jaipur sub-division, the West Satpuras division and the Bellary sub-division.

The 28th November, 1901.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, the 23rd November, 1901.

Madras.—The rainfall was good in the southern half of the Presidency and light to fair elsewhere. Water supplies are sufficient for cultivation except in parts of the Deccan. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue generally. Standing crops, on the whole, are in good condition. Harvesting continues with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are sufficient. The condition of cattle on the whole is good. Prices are stationary or easier, but are still above warning rates. Kitchen inmates:—Cuddapah—men, 60; women, 176; children, 259; total, 495. Test works—men, 713; women, 735; children, 100; total, 1,548. Grand total, 2,043.

Bombay.—Very slight rain fell during the week in parts of Nasik, Dharwar, and Kanara. More rain is wanted in parts of Gujarat, the Deccan, and Belgaum for standing crops or for spring cultivation. Crops have been slightly damaged by rats, locusts, or insects in parts of Thar and Parkar, Broach, Surat, Rajkot, Baroda, Khandesh, Bijapur, and Belgaum, and are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Baroda, Nasik, and Ahmednagar. Reaping of autumn crops has been completed in Thana, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, and Satara, is nearly over in Hyderabad, Surat, Kolaba, and Ratnagiri, and is in progress in parts of Sindh, Kaira, Baroda, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Bijapur, Belgaum, and Kanara. Threshing is in progress in parts of Sindh, Thana, Kolaba, Ahmednagar, Nasik, and Poona. Estimates of outturn of kharif crops generally are good in the Konkan and the Karnatak, fair in Sindh and the Deccan, and moderate to poor in Gujarat. Cotton prospects generally are good in Surat, Baroda, Nasik, and the Karnatak, and fair in Broach and Khandesh. Picking continues in Khandesh. Preparations for the spring are in progress in parts of Kaira, Ratnagiri, Nasik, and Kanara, but generally are retarded in the Panch Mahals and parts of Kaira for want of rain. Spring sowings are over in Satara and Dharwar, and are in progress in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Thana, Kolaba, Belgaum, Nasik, Poona, Wadhwan, and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient, except in parts of Sholapur and Dharwar. Agricultural stock generally is sufficient.

Daily average numbers on relief:—BRITISH DISTRICTS—on relief works, 24,738; dependants, 3,191; total on works, 27,929. In poor-houses, 2,590; on village relief, 16,984; total on gratuitous relief, 19,574. Figures for Ahmedabad and Belgaum are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—on relief works, 12,971; dependants, 372; total on works, 13,343. In poor-houses, 2,698; on village relief, 359; total on gratuitous relief, 3,057. Figures for Rewakantha are incomplete. Grand total, 63,903. Prices have risen in four districts, fallen in seven districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of the principal staples to the normal and to the prices of 1900 remains substantially the same. Prices of cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters—Ahmedabad, 38; Kaira, 37; Panch Mahals, 40; Sholapur, $38\frac{17}{20}$; Ahmednagar, $32\frac{1}{5}$; Poona, $27\frac{3}{10}$; Nasik, $28\frac{1}{4}$; Satara, $36\frac{3}{40}$; Bijapur, $34\frac{1}{2}$; Belgaum, 34.

Bengal.—Rain fell during the week in almost every district in Bengal Proper, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa, but it was for the most part scanty. Light showers are also reported from Bhagalpur and Malda. Prospects in Bihar continue unsatisfactory for want of rain. Sowing of spring crops and poppy continues. Paddy is being harvested. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in 8 districts, fallen in 16, and is stationary in the rest (22).

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—The weather has been somewhat unsettled in Sitapur and Partabgarh, cloudy in Ballia and Basti, and clear else-elsewhere. Late rice and millets are being gathered, and picking of cotton continues. Sowing of the spring crop is still going on, and fields already sown are being irrigated. The condition and prospects of standing crops are generally good, but in Muttra and Mirzapur germination is again reported to be unsatisfactory for want of rain. The sowing of poppy is backward in Lucknow, but is being pushed on in other districts. Pressing of sugarcane has begun in Mainpuri, Shahjahanpur, Pilibhit, and Jaunpur. Locusts appeared in parts of Garhwal and Budaun, but no damage to standing crops is reported. Supplies and fodder are ample. Prices are practically steady.

Punjab.—Harvesting of autumn crops, picking of cotton, and pressing of sugarcane are still going on in some districts. Ploughings and sowings of spring crops continue on irrigated areas, but no sowings have been made on lands dependent on rain owing to drought. Rain is still urgently wanted for further sowings. Irrigated crops are said to be in an average condition, and unirrigated poor. This applies also to the outturn of autumn crops. Seeds of spring crops have germinated satisfactorily in irrigated lands in Sialkot, but not in unirrigated lands in Gurgaon. Also the sowings on unirrigated lands have not germinated satisfactorily. Sugarcane and cotton crops on unirrigated lands in Sialkot are withering for want of rain. Crops are being damaged by field rats in parts of Amballa, Ferozepore, and Lahore. Locusts appeared in parts of Gurgaon, but did no damage. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Karnal and Mooltan. Test works are likely to be started in Hissar. Bikaniris are still passing through Gurgaon, and Hissaris and Bagris through Karnal in search of work or begging. Prices are generally unchanged. The price of wheat is rising in Lahore and Amritsar, and falling in Jullundur, Gujrat, and Rawalpindi, and that of gram rising in Amritsar and falling in Jullundur, Ferozepore, Gujrat, and Rawalpindi. Wheat is selling from 13½ to 21 seers, gram 17¼ to 25, barley 18 to 24, maize 20 to 26, great-millet 19 to 22, and bulrush-millet 17 to 27 seers per rupee. Rice is being sold from 5 to 11 seers per rupee in Lahore.

Burma.—LOWER BURMA.—Reaping of early paddy progresses in eight districts. Prospects continue good. UPPER BURMA.—Reports from Mandalay and four other districts have not yet been received. Plucking of cotton continues, and the cultivation of the alluvial lands and the planting of pulsed crops is in progress in most districts. Further rain is awaited in most districts to mature the crops, and is wanted in Meiktila and much wanted in three townships of Pakokku. In Shwebo the paddy crop is good in Kanbalu, but the later sowings in the Yeu sub-division are withering in many parts. The price of paddy has risen in two districts and fallen in two.

Central Provinces.—There has been no rain. The harvesting of rice and of other autumn crops and picking of cotton continues. The sowings of spring crops have been completed in Jubbulpur, Narsinghpur, and Nagpur, and are approaching completion elsewhere. Germination is fair in Mandla, Nimar, and Nagpur. In Wardha linseed has germinated badly, but the other crops are doing fairly well. In Saugor gram is flourishing, but wheat is suffering from the abnormal heat. In parts of the Khurai and Banda tahsils in Damoh the cloudy weather has injured the early sown wheat and linseed. In Jubbulpur, except where previously damaged, standing crops are in good condition. The damage by insects to the young spring plants has considerably abated, but still continues in a few districts. Rain is generally needed. The fluctuations in prices are small. The lowest prices are—wheat 16, gram 20, rice 16, and juar 23¾ seers per rupee. The highest prices are—wheat 8¾, gram 11, rice 8, and juar 14 seers per rupee.

Its outturn is twelve annas. Sowing of pulse and ploughing for and sowing of mustard and reaping of late rice continue. Pressing of sugarcane has been commenced. Prospects of sugarcane and late rice generally are good. Fodder is insufficient in Cachar and in parts of Kamrup. Prices:—common rice—Sylhet 15¾, Silchar 13, Nowgong and Sibsagar 12, Gauhati 11, Dhubri and Tezpur 10, and Dibrugarh 9 seers per rupee.

Standing crops are in good condition in parts of Bangalore and in Mysore, Kolar, Hassan, Shimoga, and Tumkur. Bengal gram is being sown in parts, and in other parts ragi and paddy are being harvested. Prospects are good in Bangalore, Mysore, and Tumkur, fair in Kolar, Hassan, and Chitaldrug, and favourable in Shimoga. Prices are steady in Shimoga and Chitaldrug, have slightly fallen in Mysore, Hassan, Tumkur, and in parts of Bangalore and Kadur, and have slightly risen in Kolar and in other parts of Bangalore and Kadur. Cattle are healthy except in parts of Kadur and Tumkur. Water and fodder are available. More rain is wanted in Bangalore and in parts of Kolar. COORG.—Picking of coffee continues. Rice crops are maturing. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cold. Standing crops are in good condition. Rats and locusts are disappearing in the Akola and Buldana districts. Sowings are nearing completion. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are almost stationary.

Hyderabad.—No rain fell during the week. The total from 1st January is 21 inches four cents. Standing spring crops are in fairly good condition, but want more rain in parts. Preparations for winter rice sowing have been commenced in a few talukas. Grain prices have fallen slightly. Prices—wheat 5¾, coarse rice 7⅝, and juar 17 seers per hali rupee.

Rajputana.—There was no rain during the week. Sowings for the spring continue throughout Rajputana except in Marwar and Kherwara. In Bikanir agricultural operations are going on only in a few villages watered by the Ghagger canal. The state of standing crops generally is fair. Cotton-picking is in progress in Haraoti and Tonk, Jaipur, Kishengarh, and Ajmer-Merwara. Damage has been caused by rats in Bikanir and Kherwara, where they are increasing. Spring crops have been slightly damaged by insects and rats in Kotah, Jhallawar, Jaipur, and Kishengarh. Locusts passed over four nizamats in Kotah and Ajmer-Merwara, which did little damage. The condition of cattle and fodder is good. Prices are falling in Bikanir, Marwar, Tonk, Kotah, Jhallawar, Alwar, Bharatpur, Dholpur, and Ajmer-Merwara, rising in Jaipur and Kishengarh, and are steady elsewhere. The cheapest prices average from 11 4 to 25-5 seers per rupee. Number gratuitously relieved in Marwar and Serohi, 94.

Central India.—There was no rain during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Standing crops are in good condition in Gwalior and Baghelkhand, fair in Bhopal, average in Bundelkhand, and indifferent in Malwa. Crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Gwalior and by rats in parts of Malwa. The state of agricultural stock and pasturage is good in all Agencies. The condition of agricultural stock is fair. Prices—bajri 30, juar 22, wheat 22, rice superior 13, rice inferior 21 pounds per rupee. Numbers on relief-works, 16,417; gratuitous relief, 9,871; total, 26,288.

(2) The right of pre-emption, whether recorded in the settlement-record or not, shall, unless the existence of any custom or contract to the contrary is proved, be presumed—

(a) to exist in all village-communities, however constituted, and

(b) to extend to the village-site, to the houses built upon it, to all lands and shares of lands within the village-boundary, and to all transferable rights of occupancy affecting such lands.

(3) The right of pre-emption shall not be presumed to exist in any town or city, or any sub-division thereof, but may be shown to exist therein and to be exercisable therein by such persons and under such circumstances as the local custom prescribes.

(4) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the right of pre-emption shall not arise in respect of the sale of any immoveable property by or to the Government.

Devolution of right of pre-emption when property to be sold or foreclosed is situate within a village.

35. (1) If the property to be sold or the right to redeem which is to be foreclosed is situate within, or is a share of, a village, the right to buy or redeem such property belongs, in the absence of any custom to the contrary,—

(a) first, in the case of joint undivided immoveable property, to the co-sharers;

(b) secondly, in the case of villages held on ancestral shares, to co-sharers in the village, in order of their relationship to the vendor or mortgagor;

(c) thirdly, if no co-sharer or relation of the vendor or mortgagor claims to exercise such right, to the landowners of the patti or other sub-division of the village in which the property is situate jointly;

(d) fourthly, if the landowners of the patti or other sub-division make no joint claim to exercise such right, to such landholders severally;

(e) fifthly, to any landholder of the village;

(f) sixthly, to the tenants (if any) with rights of occupancy in the property;

(g) seventhly, to the tenants (if any) with rights of occupancy in the village:

Provided that, when the property is land to the trees standing on which the Government is entitled, such right belongs to the Local Government in preference to all other persons.

(2) Where two or more persons are equally entitled to such right, the vendor or mortgagor may determine which of them shall exercise the same.

(3) Nothing in the former part of this section shall be deemed to affect the Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, section 53; but if a landlord refuses XVI or neglects to exercise the right conferred on him by that section, such right belongs, first, to the tenants (if any) with rights of occupancy in the property concerned, and, secondly, to the tenants (if any) with rights of occupancy in the village in which such property is situate.

Notice to pre-emptors.

Madras.—The rainfall was nil in the Circars, light in the Deccan, fair to good elsewhere. Water-supplies generally are sufficient for cultivation, except in parts of the Deccan Sowing, ploughing and transplanting are in progress generally. Standing crops generally are in fair condition, but need rain in parts of the Deccan and North Arcot. Harvesting of early crops continues with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder for the most part are sufficient. The condition of cattle on the whole is good. Prices are falling, but are still above warning rates. Test-workers—Guddapah—men, 920; women, 964; children, 95; total, 1,979.

Bombay.—Moderate rain fell during the week in parts of Nasik Poona, Dharwar and Kanara, more rain is urgently wanted in parts of Gujarat, the Deccan, Baroda and Rajkot for standing crops or for preparation for the spring crop. Crops have been slightly damaged by rats, locusts or insects in parts of Sindh, Broach, Surat, Baroda, Khandesh, Poona, Satara, Sholapur, Belgaum and Kolaba, are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Ahmedabad, Panch Mahals, Kaira Surat and Baroda and generally are in good condition elsewhere Reaping of autumn crops is nearly over in Satara and is in progress in Sindh, Kaira, Surat, the Deccan, the Karnatak, the Konkan and Rajkot. Cotton prospects generally are favourable in Broach, Surat, Nasik, Khandesh and the Karnatak and picking continues in Khandesh. Preparations for the spring crops are in progress in parts of Karachi and Shikarpur: sowings have been completed in Sholapur, are nearly over in Bijapur, Belgaum and Broach and are in progress in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, Kaira, Surat, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara, Dharwar, Rajkot, Wadhwan and Baroda. The fodder-supply is deficient in parts of Sholapur and Dharwar. Agricultural stock generally is sufficient for cultivation. Prices have fallen in eleven districts and are stationary elsewhere. Price of rice is slightly over normal in Gujarat, Deccan, Konkan and the Karnatak, but easier than in 1900. Price of bajri is about normal in Gujarat, over normal in the Deccan and the Konkan and considerably over normal in the Karnatak and, compared with 1900, is considerably easier. Price of juar over normal in Gujarat and considerably over normal in the Deccan, the Konkan and the Karnatak and, compared with 1900, is considerably easier. Price of wheat is over normal in Gujarat and the Konkan and considerably over normal in the Deccan and the Karnatak, but easier than in 1900. Bengal.—With the exception of a fall of 2·80 inches at Siliguri in the district of Darjeeling and very light showers in Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri and Rangpur, no rain fell during the week anywhere in the Province. The prospects of winter rice continue to be unfavourable in several districts, specially those in Bihar, owing to insufficient rain. Lands are being prepared for and sown with spring crops, but progress is retarded in parts of Bihar and also in some other parts of the Province for want of sufficient moisture. Fodder is dear at Arrah and insufficient in places in Darbhanga, but water is everywhere plentiful. The price of common rice has risen in fifteen districts, fallen in ten and is stationary in the rest.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—The weather has been bright and seasonable during the week throughout the Provinces. More rain is wanted in Muttra, Dehra Dun, Bijnor, Benares and Mirzapur for standing crops or spring cultivation. The late rice crop is reported to be withering for want of rain in Jaunpur, Ballia and Gorakhpur, while sugarcane in Azamgarh and Ballia and standing crops in parts of Jhansi have suffered slightly from insufficiency of moisture. Autumn crops generally are in good condition. Rice, millets, pulses and sesamum are being harvested. Cotton is being picked in Aligarh, Mainpuri, Faruckhabad, Sitapur, Banda and Cawnpore. Sowings of wheat and barley are in progress and that of gram approaching completion. Agricultural operations for the cultivation of poppy continue. Markets are well stocked and fodder is ample. Prices remain generally stationary with a falling tendency in some districts.

Punjab.—There was no rain during the week. Prices—the price of wheat is generally unchanged with a slight tendency to rise. A fall in the price of wheat is, however, reported from Dera Ismail Khan and the price is giving way in Peshawar. The prices of other food staples are fluctuating. Wheat is selling from 13½ to 21, gram 17 1/16 to 25, maize 15¾ to 26⅝, great millet 21 to 23, bulrush millet 17½ to 26 and barley 18 to 28 seers per rupee. Spring crops are still being sown on irrigated areas and the harvesting of autumn crops continues. Cotton is being picked in most districts. Generally speaking no sowings have been made on dry lands for want of rain, which is badly wanted throughout the Province. The condition and prospect of standing irrigated crops are said to be good in Sialkot, Gujrat and Peshawar; and average to below average in other districts. The outturn of cotton is above the average in Sialkot. Unirrigated crops are in a very poor condition. The crops on dry lands have totally failed in Hissar and are withering in Sialkot for want of rain. Crops have been damaged by rats in parts of Umballa, Ferozepore, Lahore and Gujrat and by insufficiency of canal water in Karnal. The sugarcane crop has also been damaged by high winds in Gurgaon. Cattle are generally in good condition. Pasturage fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Karnal. But the supply of green fodder is decreasing in Ferozepore. Test-works are likely to be opened in Hissar. Bikaneris are passing through Gurgaon, and Hissaris and Bagris through Karnal, begging and in search of work.

Burma—LOWER BURMA: Reaping of hillside paddy has been completed in Akyab. Crop prospects continue good in all districts. UPPER BURMA: Reaping of early paddy continues in Thayetmyo and the Taungdwingyi subdivision of Magwe and has been commenced in Shwebo and the Mogaung subdivision of Myitkyina. Reaping of hillside paddy is progressing. Plucking of cotton continues in Myingyan. Ploughing for and sowing of peas and miscellaneous crops and the cultivation of alluvial soil are in progress. Transplanting of paddy continues in the Amarapura township of Mandalay. Standing crops are fair to good, except for floods in low lying places in the Upper Chindwin and want of rain in the Singu township of Mandalay, where paddy nurseries and sesamum have been damaged. Price of paddy has fallen in Rangoon and Thayetmyo and has risen in two districts.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been generally clear and the week has been rainless. The harvesting of early rice and other autumn crops continues. The picking of cotton has commenced in Nimar and Chhindwara and continues in Wardha. The autumn crops, especially rice and juar, are deteriorating in several districts. Insects are still damaging til and juar in some parts. The sowing of spring crops continues, but in some districts has been stopped owing to lack of moisture. For the same reason the germination of some of the early spring crops has been poor. Insects are also causing considerable damage to the young seedlings in most districts. Last week's rain has slightly improved prospects in the Hinganghat tahsil of the Wardha district. Prospects are still bad in Saugor, where the wheat area damaged by insects has been in great part resown with gram. The rice and kodon crops are reported to be dying in parts of the Simga tahsil and Laon pargana of the Raipur district, where prospects are gloomy. In other parts of Chhattisgarh prospects are fair. Prices still show a tendency to fall. The lowest prices are—wheat 16½, gram 17½, rice 16 and juar 22½ seers per rupee. The highest prices are—wheat 8¾, gram 11, rice 8 and juar 12½ seers per rupee.

Assam.—The weather is seasonable. More rain is wanted in Goalpara. The plucking of tea is in progress. Prospects have much improved in Darrang, are good in Sylhet and Lakhimpur and fair elsewhere. Harvesting of early rice is nearly finished in Darrang. The outturn is good. The sowing of pulse and ploughing for mustard are in progress. Prospects of sugarcane and late rice are generally good Cutting of jute has been finished. Outturn is normal in Sylhet and below average in Goalpara for want of sufficient rain. Fodder is insufficient in Cachar and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar 13; Sylhet and Nowgong 10½; Dhubri and Dibrugarh 9, Gauhati and Tezpur 10 and Sibsagar 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore.—Twenty-seven cents of rain fell during the week in the Civil and Military station of Bangalore. There has been good rain throughout the Province, except in Chitaldrug. The standing crops are in good condition in parts of Chitaldrug and in Bangalore, Mysore, Kolar, Hassan and Tumkur. Ragi and paddy are being harvested in parts and in other parts paddy and horse gram are being sown. Prospects are good in Mysore, favourable in Bangalore and Tumkur and fair in Kolar, Hassan and Chitaldrug. Prices are steady in Kolar, have slightly fallen in Bangalore, Mysore, Tumkur and in parts of Hassan, Kadur and Chitaldrug and have slightly risen in other parts of Hassan, Kadur and Chitaldrug. Ministries of the Interior and of Finance.

The Ministers of the Interior and of Finance :

With reference to their decisions of 19th September 1900 (Official Gazette of 20th September 1900), of 16th February 1901 (Official Gazette of 18th February 1901), and of 21-23rd of May 1901 (Official Gazette of 24th May 1901), according to which the prohibitions issued by the Royal Decree of 15th September 1900 (Staatsblad No. 160) concerning the importation and transport of rags, second-hand clothes and soiled underclothing and bedding from Bombay, Calcutta, Cape Town and Port Elizabeth (Cape Colony), were still in force :

Taking into consideration that the Royal Decree of 15th September 1900 (Staatsblad No. 160) is no longer in force at the date when the Royal Decree for replacing it of 12th September 1901 (Staatsblad No. 209) has come into operation and also that the aforesaid decisions are then invalid :

That the appearance of plague compels us to onsider it necessary to maintain for the present the prohibitions aforesaid:

Make generally known that, according to the Royal Decree of 12th September 1901 (Staatsblad No. 209), beginning with 23rd September 1901, the importation and transport of ags, second-hand clothes and soiled underclothing and bedding from Bombay, Calcutta, Cape Town and Port Elizabeth (Cape Colony) are prohibited.

ANNUAL REPORT

ON

THE POST OFFICE OF INDIA

FOR THE YEAR

1900-01,

Comprising a review of the progress of the Department for the quinquennial period 1896-97 to 1900-01.

No. 183-B.P., dated the 1st October 1901.

From—A. U. FANSHAWE, Esq., C.S.I., Director General of the Post Office of India,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Post Office of India for the year ended the 31st March 1901. In accordance with the instructions of Government conveyed to me in Finance and Commerce Department letter No. 1830-S.R., dated the 11th April 1901, the report also comprises a review of the progress of the Department during the period from 1896-97 to 1900-01, in comparison with the results of the two preceding quinquennial periods. This is the first quinquennial report that has been submitted on the Post Office of India.

2. The administration of the Department was in my hands during the whole year, with the exception of a few days at the end of March 1901.

Principal events. Inland post.

3. The continuous delivery scheme was still further extended in Bombay and was successfully introduced at Simla, while it continued to be worked in Calcutta with satisfactory results. Substantial improvements also were made in the delivery arrangements at Lahore and Rangoon. Towards the end of the year the prohibition hitherto in force against the acceptance of currency notes of foreign circles as deposits in the Post Office Savings Bank was withdrawn, and orders were issued restricting the amount of current gold coin that may be sent in an inland parcel to twenty sovereigns. The plague continued in the localities previously affected, and made its appearance for the first time in parts of the North-Western Provinces. Except in Bihar, it was less virulent in its general character than in former years, but still caused much anxiety to the local officers of the Department. Fewer postal servants (97 in all) succumbed to this disease in 1900-01 than in either of the two preceding years, but the Department has paid a heavy toll to plague since its appearance in this country, the total number of deaths from this cause being not less than five hundred. There were some cases of desertion of duty on the part of postal servants owing to the fear of plague, but, on the other hand, there were many instances of loyal and courageous conduct, and I sanctioned special rewards in 81 cases, chiefly to postmen in Bihar, for devotion to duty in circumstances of extreme trial.

In the Punjab and Rajputana there were further causes of anxiety from famine, cholera and malarial fever of a specially fatal type. The Punjab establishments had been depleted for sending field post offices to China, and the resources of the Postmaster-General were taxed to the uttermost in finding suitable candidates to fill the many vacancies caused by death and sickness. In Rajputana the demand for new men was not so great, but in parts of the circle mail communications were maintained only with the greatest difficulty, mail carriers in some instances having to be obtained from the outside.

In June and July 1900 arrangements were made, at short notice, for the equipment and despatch to China of field post offices to accompany the British Contingent of the China Field Force sent from this country. The entire arrangements were under the control of the Postmaster-General, Punjab, and of a total establishment of 168 postal officers deputed to China, 133 were drawn from the Punjab itself. A separate report has been submitted regarding the work of the field posts in China.

The postal arrangements in the Native States of Jhallawar and Kotah in Rajputana were amalgamated with the Imperial Post on the 1st November 1900 and 1st March 1901, respectively. In the case of Kotah, the amalgamation was a measure of some importance, attended with the opening of 23 new post offices and 365 miles of mail lines.

The last remaining sections of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway between Kolaghat and Howrah were opened to traffic during the year, thereby completing railway communication by the East Coast route between Calcutta and Madras. Owing to this, the transmission of mails between Bengal and Southern India was considerably accelerated, and towards the end of the year the service was still further improved by the introduction of revised time tables, by which the time occupied in transit between Calcutta and Madras has now been reduced to about 48 hours. Direct railway communication between Sind and Rajputana was also completed during the year by the opening of the section between Barmer and Shadipalli; and mails can now be sent with advantage by this through railway route between Karachi and Bombay every day except on the actual days of departure of the direct mail steamers.

There were serious and protracted breaks on various railways during the year, which caused interruptions in the mail service. The most important of these were the breaches of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway and the Delhi-Umballa-Kalka Railway during the rains of 1900. The interruption in the first case lasted for two months, from the 15th June to the 16th August 1900, and in the second case for about seven weeks, from the 16th July to the 4th September 1900.

Finally in pursuance of the accepted policy of raising pay on account of the growth of money responsibility as well as work, increases in pay and allowances were sanctioned in the case of 128 sub-postmasters, 110 departmental branch postmasters and 148 extra-departmental agents. Moreover, the minimum pay was raised for head postmasters in the Madras Presidency.

Principal events, foreign post.

4. The foreign parcel post was extended to the United States of America, Formosa, and the Caroline, Pelew, Marianne and Marshall Islands, while the system of insurance of parcels was extended to New South Wales and the United States of America. A direct exchange of parcels was introduced between India and Siam, in supersession of the previously existing exchange through the intermediate agency of the Post Office of Netherlands-India. The parcel and money order exchanges with the Orange River Colony, which had been temporarily closed in consequence of the war in South Africa, and the parcel exchange with Greece, which had been suspended on account of quarantine restrictions, were resumed during the year. On the other hand, the parcel post to Réunion was temporarily suspended. Special arrangements were made with Ceylon, in view of the close relations subsisting between the two countries, for furnishing the senders of telegraphic money orders and registered parcels with the actual acknowledgments of the persons receiving the money or parcels.

New Zealand, the Orange River Colony and the Transvaal were added to the list of colonies which have adopted the Imperial Penny Postage scheme.

5. According to the sanctioned time tables of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, the outward steamers with the European mails were due in Bombay at noon on Saturday of each week. During the year under report, the contract time was exceeded on five occasions, the delay in the two cases in which it was material being due to the fact that the Suez Canal was blocked by the grounding of other steamers. On 15 occasions, the mail steamers arrived on Friday, on 33 occasions on Saturday, on 3 occasions on Sunday, and on 1 occasion on Monday. The shortest time occupied in transit by the mail from London to Bombay was 13 days, 8 hours and 10 minutes, while the average time for the year was 14 days, 5 hours and 56 minutes. In the opposite direction, that is, from Bombay to London, the quickest transit was 13 days, 1 hour and 29 minutes, while the average time for the year was 14 days, 6 hours and 6 minutes. Working of the P. and O. contract.

Section I.—Post offices and postal communications.

(1) Post offices, letter-boxes and village postmen.

6. Appendix I shows the number of post offices, letter-boxes and village postmen, both Imperial and District Post, in each circle at the close of the year, as compared with the corresponding figures at the close of the previous year. There was an increase, during the year, of 573 post offices and 1,503 letter-boxes. The increase was greatest in Madras and the Punjab as regards post offices, and in Madras and Bombay as regards letter-boxes. The number of post offices in the charge of school-masters and other persons who are not regular servants of the Department rose from 7,221 to 7,809. Post offices, letter-boxes, etc., during 1900-01.

7. The total number of post offices was 9,419 in 1890-91, 11,061 in 1895-96, and now at the end of 1900-01 stands at 12,970. There has been, therefore, a steady increase in the number of post offices opened during the last decade, to which Madras and the Punjab have contributed the largest share. The new offices opened year by year are chiefly small village offices, though since 1890-91 our totals have been increased by our taking over the management of the Kashmir posts in 1894 and the management of the posts of various minor Native States since then. The new village offices have, for the most part, been opened in charge of extra-departmental agents, as they are termed, and the growth of this agency will be seen from the following figures. The number of post offices in charge of these agents, who are not regular servants of the Department, was 4,017 in 1890-91, 5,956 in 1895-96, and 7,809 at the close of the year under report. The large majority of these agents are Government school-masters, and we owe it largely to the cordial co-operation of the officers of the Educational Department that we have been able of late years to open so many post offices in the interior of districts all of which necessarily pay their way according to a strict test before they are made permanent. Growth of post offices and facilities for rural delivery since 1890-91.

The provision of letter-boxes has received much attention during the last decade. The total number of these boxes was 14,309 in 1890-91, 19,390 in 1895-96, and 25,509 in 1900-01. There was thus an increase of 5,000 during the first period of five years and of 6,000 during the second period. The average rate of progress has been 1,000 a year, a rate which has sensibly increased during the last few years. More has been done of late in this direction in Madras, the Punjab, and Bombay than elsewhere, and more required to be done in the two first-named circles, but the energy that has been displayed in each of these provinces may well be imitated in some other parts of India. In most provinces a special village directory has been compiled for the use of postal officials, and when the figures of the new census can be obtained, a systematic review of villages will be undertaken in order that it may be ascertained where fresh letter-boxes are still required.

The total number of village postmen, or rural messengers, was 6,251 in 1890-91, 7,291 in 1895-96, and now stands at 7,936. There has been less increase, therefore, during the last five years than during the preceding quinquennial period, and the rate of progress, judged by the figures standing alone, may appear to be slow. It must not, however, be inferred from this that the delivery of letters in the interior of districts has not been receiving attention. I have already dwelt on the development of small offices in charge of village schoolmasters or other agents, and many places, which a few years ago would have been served by a village postman, have now a small post office of their own. Moreover, many of those who were formerly designated village postmen are no longer included under that head, as all delivery agents who return each day to the post office to which they are attached are now classified as postmen. The total number of postmen and village postmen, taken together, was 14,802 for 1890-91, 16,871 for 1895-96, and 19,141 for 1900-01.

(2) Postal communications.

'ostal ommunica- ons during 900-01.

8. In Appendix I also are shown the distances over which mails were conveyed in each circle by the various agencies employed by this Department. The total figures for the year under report are given in the following statement in comparison with those of the previous year:—

	Nature of Postal Communications.
	Railway.	Runners and boats.	Mail tonga.	Steamer.	Total.
Mileage at close of 1900-1901 . .	22,839	85,023	7,937	15,822	131,621
Ditto at close of 1899-1900 . .	21,750	82,874	7,569	15,741	127,934
Increase .	1,089	2,149	368	81	3,687

It will be seen that there was a general increase under each class of mail lines, the increase being greatest under the head of runners and boats. This was chiefly due to the opening of new lines in Madras, in order to bring newly established offices into communication with the previously existing posts, and to the amalgamation, which has already been mentioned, of the posts of the Kotah Native State with the Imperial postal system in Rajputana.

'rowth of 'ostal com- unications ince 1890- 891.

9. During the last ten years the total mileage of postal lines has been steadily increasing, although there has been much variation in the distances over which mails are carried by the various agencies employed by the Post Office. In 1890-91 the total length of these lines was 109,232 miles, in 1895-96 it had risen to 122,282 miles, and for the year under report stands at 131,621 miles. The total increase, therefore, was 13,000 miles in the first period and rather more than 9,000 miles in the second period.

The distance over which mails are carried by railway has been constantly increasing with the development of the railway system of the country. The total length was 16,522 miles in 1890-91, 18,879 miles in 1895-96 and 22,839 miles in 1900-01. In many parts of the country the railway has supplanted the mail runner, and with the completion, during the year under report, of the East Coast Railway into Calcutta, the last links of the longest runners' line in India have been closed. This line practically extended from Madras to Calcutta, a distance of more than a thousand miles, and no less than 836 runners have been thrown out of employ owing to the construction of the East Coast Railway.

It might have been expected that with the expansion of the railway system the total length of runners' lines would tend to decrease, but this has not been the case. The actual distance over which mails are carried by runners is now 85,023 miles, as compared with 81,071 miles in 1895-96 and 74,630 miles in 1890-91. It will be seen that the increase during the period that ended with 1895-96 was more marked than during the last five years, and for this there were special causes. In 1894 the Kashmir posts were amalgamated with the Imperial system, and this brought 1,200 additional miles of runners' lines on to our registers, while during the five years ending with 1895-96 there was an important extension of runners' lines in Burma and also in the Central Provinces. Moreover, it has to be remembered that the opening, year by year, of numerous small post offices in the interior of districts with their connecting lines accounts in the aggregate for a large increase in mileage.

It may seem strange that boat communications should be included under the same head as runners' lines, but in various parts of the country the two are in point of fact interchangeable. In Eastern Bengal, for instance, each year, with the advent of the monsoon, more than 1,200 miles of road over which mails had been carried by runners, regularly become waterways, only navigable by boats. Apart from this, boat services are maintained throughout the year on rivers in Eastern Bengal, Assam, and Burma, though these services, especially in Burma, have been supplanted of late years by steamer services and the extension of the railway in that province. The total length of boat communications was 2,286 miles in 1890-91, 2,490 miles in 1895-96, and 1,561 miles in 1900-01. It may be mentioned that what is, perhaps, the most interesting boat service maintained by the Department, has been temporarily suspended owing to the plague. This is the catamaran, or surf-boat, service between Point Calimere, in the Tanjore district, and Kankesanturai, the most northern point of Ceylon. Mails have been sent daily by this route, a distance of forty miles, for more than half a century, though the service has lost its original importance since the establishment of a daily steamer communication between Tuticorin and Colombo.

Under the heading mail tonga lines, which includes horse and camel posts, there has been an increase of 3,500 miles since 1890-91, the total mileage having risen from 4,400 in that year to 6,839 in 1895-96 and to 7,937 in 1900-01. Mails are carried by camels only in Rajputana and Sind, and there has been no increase of late years in the number of camel posts. There has been, however, a material increase in the mileage over which mails are carried by horses or mules, chiefly owing to the extension of these posts in Burma and on the borders of Baluchistan. The number of small mail tonga services constantly tends to increase, but the greatest development in these services has been in the Punjab, owing to the tonga line from Murree to Srinagar having become an Imperial postal line in 1894, and owing, to the establishment of similar services on the North-West Frontier and on the road to Chitral.

The total mileage of steamer lines is now 15,822, as compared with 15,493 in 1895-96 and 13,680 in 1890-91. The increase during the first period was mainly due to the establishment of certain local steamer services in Bengal and to the introduction in 1894 of a contract steamer service between Madras and Rangoon and of a regular daily service between Tuticorin and Colombo under a revised contract entered into with the British India Steam Navigation Company in that year.

number of parcels, amounted to over 532¼ millions, or 23¼ millions in excess of the number during the preceding year. Statistics showing the different classes of articles delivered in the various postal circles during 1900-1901 will be found in Appendix II, and a summary of the general results is given in the following statement:—

It will be seen that, except as regards unpaid letters and registered parcels, there was an increase in the total number of articles issued for delivery under every head. As usual, the increase under the head of postcards (nearly 12 millions) far exceeded the increase in any other class of postal articles, and it may be noted that the number of postcards exceeded the number of paid letters issued for delivery in the Bengal, Bombay, Punjab and Eastern Bengal circles. The total number of letters registered during the year was more than 10½ millions, [illegible] of 365,599 over the figures of the preceding year, and India, the total number of letters registered [illegible] Madras than in any other part of 2 millions. The total number of unpaid letters was rather less than in the preceding year, and there was also a decrease in the number of registered parcels, though the parcel traffic of the year, taken as a whole, advanced by 2·87 per cent.

11. The foreign correspondence received in India for delivery is included in the total figures contained in Appendix II, and separate figures are now given showing the correspondence exchanged with the United Kingdom. The number of letters and post-cards received from the United Kingdom was 4,271,745 in 1900-01 as compared with 4,233,644 in the preceding year, while the number of newspapers, book-packets and samples was 7,770,797 as compared with 7,349,624 in the previous year. The number of letters and post-cards despatched home from this country during 1900-01 was 3,636,207 as compared with 3,529,248 despatched during the preceding year, and the number of newspapers, book-packets and samples was 1,221,989 as compared with 1,128,309 during the previous year.

The figures relating to the correspondence exchanged between India and countries other than the United Kingdom are those that were recorded in 1896, and need not be expressly referred to here.

12. The total number of parcels sent by the foreign post from this country was 144,427 during 1900-01 as compared with 143,025 during the preceding year. The total number received in this country during 1900-01 was 157,103 as compared with 138,989 received during the preceding year. There was thus an increase of 13·03 per cent. in the number of parcels received and of 0·98 per cent. in the number of parcels despatched by the foreign parcel post.

The number of parcels received from the United Kingdom, was 120,219, as compared with 108,432 during the preceding year, while the number of parcels despatched home from this country showed a falling off from 74,696 to 70,936. The number of parcels received by the Brindisi route was 12,165 as compared with 7,008 during the preceding year, and the number of parcels despatched home by that route was 11,890 as compared with 9,655 during the previous year.

The number of parcels received from countries other than the United Kingdom was 36,884 during 1900-01 as compared with 30,557 during the preceding year, while the number of parcels despatched from this country was 73,491 as compared with 68,329 during the previous year. This increase is due in great measure to the continued growth of the parcel post with Ceylon and the development of the traffic with the Straits Settlements.

Delivery work during 1900-01.

13. The figures given in Appendix II show that 532,282,742 letters, postcards, newspapers, packets and parcels were issued for delivery during the year, and that 12,922,465 money orders were issued for payment, making a grand total for all these classes of articles of 545,205,207, as compared with 521,511,535 in 1899-1900. Of the total number issued for delivery or payment, it is estimated that 533,022,150, or 97·77 per cent., were actually delivered or paid during the year under report, as compared with 508,916,838, or 97·59 per cent., during the previous year. These figures in the case of parcels and money orders are actual figures, but in the case of the other articles are founded on an enumeration made twice during the year for a period of a week on each occasion.

Work of Dead Letter Offices during 1900-01.

14. The total number of letters, postcards and other articles, excluding money orders, that reached one or other of the ten Dead Letter Offices was 4,579,071, as compared with 4,345,378 received in the previous year, and details of the distribution of these articles among these offices and the manner of their disposal will be found in Appendix III. Of the total number of articles, 933,643—or 20·39 per cent., as compared with 19·93 per cent. in the previous year—were re-directed and issued for delivery to the persons to whom they were addressed, while 2,399,251—or 52·40 per cent., as compared with 53·14 per cent. in the previous year—were issued for return to the senders, though out of these about 11 per cent. in all came back again to the Dead Letter Offices. The total number finally found to be unreturnable was 1,585,664, and these were deposited as dead. This last figure is only 0·3 per cent. of the total number of articles given out for delivery in the year, and a large proportion of the unreturnable articles were from their nature not capable of delivery. As usual, a large amount of valuable property was found in letters and other articles that had to be opened in order that the senders might be traced. The property included cheques, hundis, currency notes and coins, and amounted in all to R3,26,064-13-6 and £1,161-13-10, the whole of which was successfully delivered to the owners with the exception of money and other articles of the total value of R31,954-3-0 and £136-7-8.

The object lessons to be learnt from the work of the Dead Letter Offices are always the same, but none the less require to be constantly re-taught. The Dead Letter Office is the bourne of the unaddressed envelope, the photograph that is insecurely packed and the newspaper that comes apart from its flimsy and ill-fastened wrapper. Every year thousands of letters and book packets reach the various Dead Letter Offices with absolutely blank faces. In the Bengal office, where statistics were kept, some nine thousand of these unaddressed articles had to be dealt with during 1900-01. Many of them are circular letters and advertisements which are issued in enormous quantities, so that it is easily intelligible how some of them come to be overlooked at the time when the addresses are being written; but the annals of each year contain strange instances of letters addressed, in a moment of absence of mind, to the writer's own name, and of business communications, and letters with valuable contents, posted to addresses that do not exist, or with no addresses at all. As regards photographs, which hold an important place in modern life, the simple precaution of writing the name and address of the sender on the back would prevent many tokens of affection or friendship being ultimately consigned to the flames. Attention has been drawn to this point from time to time, but, as the experience of the Dead Letter Offices shows, without much result. There has been an improvement of late years in the matter of closing newspapers sent out to this country from the United Kingdom. At any rate, fewer newspapers and periodicals in proportion to the total number of these articles are now received in the Bombay Dead Letter Office separated from their wrappers. Special enquiries still continue to be made whenever detached wrappers are received with names and addresses upon them, but nothing to indicate what the contents of the wrappers were, and by this means during the year under report the delivery was effected of a number of newspapers which would otherwise have had to be treated as dead.

As an instance of the freaks of human nature, of which each year supplies fresh examples, it may be mentioned that in the Lahore Dead Letter Office it was found that a quantity of letters containing blank pieces of paper had been posted at different places in the Punjab to fictitious addresses apparently by some person of unsound mind.

It may be noted that during the year a letter for an Indian official, now in England, was posted at a small town in Rajputana addressed to "Camberley" without the country of destination. At the time Kimberley was in men's minds, and to a native of India the distinction between Camberley and Kimberley is slight. The letter, therefore, was despatched to South Africa, whence it was re-directed to England and safely reached the person for whom it was intended in Surrey.

owth of and rrespon- nce since 90-91.

15. There has been a continuous and rapid growth during the last ten years in the number of letters, postcards, newspapers and book packets as will be seen from the figures given in the statement on the opposite page, which, it should be remembered, are in all cases estimated figures. In the case of each of these classes of postal articles the percentage of increase shown by the figures for 1900-01 over the figures for 1890-91 is more than double the percentage of increase over the figures for 1895-96.

In the total number of letters issued for delivery there has been a large and progressive increase during the last ten years. The number of registered letters also has been steadily increasing during this period. It was 6 millions in 1890-91, 8 millions in 1895-96, and 10½ millions in 1900-01. The estimated number of unpaid letters was 26 millions in 1890-91, 28 millions in 1895-96, and 29 millions in 1900-01. There has been some variation of late in the number of these letters posted from year to year, but the total has never reached 30 millions. The proportion, therefore, of unpaid letters has been sensibly decreasing in relation to paid letters. The constantly increasing popularity of the postcard, as well as the large general use of the half-anna embossed envelope, account for this to a great extent, and the old belief that an unpaid letter was more sure of being delivered, at any rate in the interior of districts, than a letter on which the postage had been prepaid, is gradually being given up. How tenacious habit is, however, will be seen from the fact that the parts of India n which the proportion of unpaid to paid letters is the highest are the same as they were ten years ago. This proportion is still highest in Burma, in Assam, Bihar and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, though in every case the relative proportion of unpaid letters to that of paid letters is lower than before. The emigrant population from Bihar and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh still, as a rule, post letters to their homes without prepaying the postage, and it is a matter of interest to note that, although the total number of letters for delivery is about the same in the United Provinces as in the Punjab, the unpaid letters amount to 5 millions as compared with 2½ millions in the latter province.

The most remarkable feature of the statement, however, is the increase in the number of postcards. In 1900-01 the Department delivered 64¾ million more postcards than in 1895-96 and 117 million more than in 1890-91. The popularity of the postcard as a form of communication has long been well established in this country. The rate of postage, a quarter of an anna, is one of the cheapest postcard rates in the world, and the postcard itself is sold for the denominated value of the stamp.

There was also a considerable increase in the total number of articles of all kinds sent by the packet post, including book-packets, pattern packets and newspapers. The total number was 35 millions in 1890-91, 47 millions in 1895-96 and 60 millions in 1900-01. In 1898 separate rates of postage were introduced for registered newspapers, and since then only registered newspapers have been shown in the returns under the separate head newspapers, all other newspapers being classified as book packets. It is not possible, therefore, to show the separate growth of newspapers as a whole during the last ten years.

Growth of inland parcel traffic since 1890-91.

16. The figures relating to parcels as given in the statement on the preceding page are actual figures; and they show that the total number of inland parcels was 1,658,191 in 1890-91, 2,196,163 in 1895-96, and has now risen to 2,679,109. Up to 1895 parcels were carried by this Department only under what was in effect a system of registration. From the 1st of August, however, of that year, a class of cheap unregistered parcels was introduced, and the development of the parcel traffic during the last five years has been in this class of parcels. The number posted was 114,963 in 1896-97, 282,980 in 1898-99, and has risen to half a million in 1900-01. Registered parcels have remained in excess of 2 millions year by year since 1895, but have not shown any tendency to increase. The total growth of parcels, both registered and unregistered, has been a million during the last ten years, and the traffic, therefore, has shown on the whole a steady development. The total parcel transactions, however, are still comparatively small, and an important reform has been sanctioned and brought into force since the close of the year under report by which a material reduction has been made in the rates of postage for parcels weighing more than 2 lbs. and not exceeding 11 lbs. in weight. The charge is now 12 annas instead of R1-4 for a 5-lb. parcel, R1 instead of R1-12 for a 7-lb. parcel, and R1-8 instead of R2-12 for an 11-lb. parcel, and it is hoped, that with the introduction of the present simple and cheap scale of parcel postage, there will be a considerable expansion in future of the inland parcel business.

NOTE.—The figures relating to correspondence despatched from India to the United Kingdom are based on statistics taken for each mail; and those relating to correspondence received from the United Kingdom are based on special statistics taken during the year.

There has been a marked increase during the last ten years in the number of letters exchanged with the United Kingdom, for which there are two special causes in the reduction of the letter postage from $4\frac{1}{2}d.$ to $2\frac{1}{2}d.$ (or from $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ annas) the half ounce, at the beginning of 1891, and in the further reduction of the postage to $1d.$ or 1 anna the half ounce with effect from Christmas Day, 1898. For several years before 1890-91 the number of letters received from the United Kingdom and despatched to that country had been about $2\frac{1}{2}$ millions; it rose to about 3 millions in each direction in 1895-96, and has gone on increasing up to the present time. It is a noticeable fact, however, that with the introduction of the Imperial penny postage, the letters from the United Kingdom have shown a tendency to increase faster than the letters sent home from India. On the figures of the last two years the total number of letters received from the United Kingdom is about $4\frac{1}{4}$ millions, while the total number sent home has been only $3\frac{1}{2}$ millions.

In the case of the newspaper and book-packet mails there has always been a great preponderance in the number received from the United Kingdom over the number despatched from this country, and a remarkable increase has been going on in the number of these articles. The total number received from the United Kingdom was nearly 3 millions in 1890-91, more than $4\frac{1}{2}$ millions in 1895-96, and has now grown to $7\frac{3}{4}$ millions. At the same time there has been an increase, although a much smaller increase, in the number of newspapers and book-packets sent home from this country. The total number was about 600,000 in 1890-91, nearly one million in 1895-96, and has now increased to $1\frac{1}{4}$ millions.

18. The correspondence exchanged with countries other than the United Kingdom has also been steadily growing. It is estimated on the last general Union statistics taken in 1896 that 2,109,500 letters and post-cards were being sent in a year from India by the foreign post to countries other than the United Kingdom, and that 2,157,792, or much the same number, of letters and post-cards, were being received from those countries in a year. As regards newspapers, packets and samples, the number estimated for the year was 1,611,921 from India and 1,348,685 to India. These figures showed a considerable advance on those obtained from the previous general Union statistics taken in 1893. This was mainly due to a large development of correspondence between India and the British colonies of Ceylon, Australasia, Hong-Kong and the Straits Settlements which followed upon the establishment in 1894 of what is practically a daily steamer service between Tuticorin and Colombo. Since 1896 no general Union statistics have been taken, in accord- Growth of foreign correspondence with countries other than the United Kingdom.

h of eign post 1890-

19. During the last ten years there has been a considerable development of the foreign parcel post, which includes the parcel exchanges with the United Kingdom and colonies as well as with foreign countries. During this period direct parcel posts have been established with Germany, France and Italy, with four of the Australian colonies, with Persia and Siam, and more lately with the British Protectorate of East Africa, with which parcel transactions have already assumed some importance. A direct parcel post has also been opened with Natal, and quite recently with Cape Colony. The total number of parcels received by India from all parts of the world by the foreign parcel post was 125,321 in 1890-91, 105,546 in 1895-96 and 157,103 in 1900-01. The total number despatched from India by the foreign parcel post was 66,392 in 1890-91, 114,832 in 1895-96, and 144,427 in 1900-01.

The parcel post with the United Kingdom occupies by far the most important position, and the transactions, in both directions, of each of the last five years, in comparison with those of the years 1895-96 and 1890-91, are given in the following statement:—

The number of parcels sent out to India from the United Kingdom was nearly 78,000 in 1890-91, and had increased to 85,000 in 1895-96. During the last five years, however, remarkable progress has been made. There was an increase in the number of parcels received from that country of 7,000 in 1897-98, of 9,600 in 1898-99 and of 12,000 in 1900-01, the total number for that year being 118,196. In 1898 the scale of postage for parcels sent by the Gibraltar route was revised with the effect of reducing the rates for parcels above the weight of 3 lbs., and this has led to an increase in the average weight of the parcels received from the United Kingdom, which is now 3lbs.-2·56 oz. as compared with 1 lb.-6·24 oz. in 1895-96 and 2 lbs.-11·31 oz. in 1890-91. In the same year, moreover, the public were given the opportunity of sending parcels, at a higher rate of postage, by the Brindisi route, and have not been slow to take advantage of this arrangement. On an average a thousand parcels a month are now being received by this route.

The number of parcels sent home from India showed a rapid development during the five years ending with 1895-96, the total increase being 22,000, and at the end of that period the number sent home was about 75,000 a year as compared with 85,000 received from the United Kingdom. But during the last five years the number has remained stationary or fallen off, owing mainly, it is believed, to the plague and the consequent restrictions on the contents of parcels from this country.

India has not joined the scheme for a cheap Imperial parcel postage, which is said to have given a stimulus to the parcel traffic between the mother country and the colonies and dependencies that have adopted it.

The growth of the parcel post between India and countries other than the United Kingdom will be seen from the following statement:— (2) With other countries.

On the total figures, the parcels despatched from this country are more important than the parcels received from the various countries with which parcel exchanges are in existence, and this is due mainly to the character of the parcel transactions between Ceylon and India. The total number of parcels sent by the foreign parcel post, outside the transactions with the United Kingdom, was 12,319 in 1890-91 and had increased to 38,321 in 1895-96. The number has been rapidly rising during the last five years and is now 73,491. The bulk of these parcels are sent to Ceylon, the actual number despatched to that colony having been 23,795 in 1895-96, 41,184 in 1899-1900 and 46,282 in 1900-01. During the last few years a parcel traffic has grown up with the British East Africa Protectorate, the number of parcels sent to Mombasa from India having been 8,453 in 1899-1900 and 7,452 in 1900-01. The number of parcels sent to Continental Europe shows no tendency to increase, and the traffic with the Australian Colonies is limited to a few hundred parcels in each direction.

The number of parcels received in India by the foreign parcel post has risen from 9,558 in 1890-91 to 17,720 in 1895-96 and to 36,884 in 1900-01. The countries from which these parcels chiefly come are Italy, France, Egypt, Ceylon, the Straits Settlements and China.

(2) Postage stamps.

20. Particulars regarding the issues from treasuries of ordinary postage stamps, postcards, embossed envelopes and stamped wrappers and also of service postage stamps, postcards, and envelopes will be found in Appendix IV. The total value of the issues of ordinary postage stamps amounted to nearly 1½ crores of rupees and the total value of service stamps to more than 29 lakhs of rupees, there being an increase over the figures of the preceding year of R7,37,274 in the case of ordinary postage stamps, and of R1,27,584 in the case of service stamps. Sale of postage stamps, etc., during 1900-01.

Under the head of ordinary postage stamps, the inland single postcards, which are sold for the denominated value of the stamp, continued to command the highest sales, the total issues being over 136 millions in number. The next highest sales were commanded by the small ½-anna envelopes, which also are sold for the denominated value of the stamp, the issues of which exceeded 77 millions. After these come the ½-anna postage stamps of which over 72 millions were issued; and it may be noted that there was a material increase in the sales of the 3-pie stamps, which rose from 18¼ millions to more than 21½ millions, and of the 1-anna postage stamps, which rose from 14¾ millions to 15½ millions. Of the special envelopes and wrappers supplied by the Department, for which a charge is made on account of stationery, there was an increase in the sales of the large and small registration envelopes and of the ½-anna and 1-anna wrappers. The total issues of ordinary stamps were largest in the Bombay circle, where they amounted to more than 28 lakhs of rupees. Bengal and Madras come next with issues of over 26 lakhs of rupees each, and then the Punjab with issues of more than 18 lakhs.

As regards service stamps, all that need be said is that there was an increase in the sale of service postage stamps and envelopes of all denominations except in the case of the 8-anna stamps and the 1-anna square envelopes.

Apart from the sales of postage stamps, 1-anna revenue or receipt stamps to the value of R4,49,508 were sold during the year through the agency of the Post Office. Non-judicial stamps and Court-fee stamps are also sold at many post offices, but, except in Burma, the postmaster acts, as regards these stamps, as a private vendor, and the stamps do not form part of the Post Office balance. In Burma, where general stamps are kept by the postmaster in the same way as other stamps, the sales on this account amounted to R87,507.

During the year under review, effect was given to the decision to adopt the colours accepted by the Union for the postage stamps representing the three standard postage rates of the Union, viz., 5 centimes, 10 centimes and 25 centimes, of which the equivalents in India are ½ anna, 1 anna and 2½ annas, respectively. The adoption of these colours for the ½-anna, 1-anna and 2½-anna stamps necessitated a change in the colours of the ¼-anna and 2-anna stamps, and the colours in which the five denominations of postage stamps in question are now printed are as follows :—

¼-anna stamp	slate-grey.
½ " "	pea-green.
1 " "	crimson.
2 " "	violet.
2½ " "	blue.

Section III.—Insurance and Value-payable post.

(1) Insurance.

21. During the year under report 317,986 letters and parcels in all were insured for transmission by post for an aggregate amount of more than 9½ crores of rupees. The following comparative statement shows that the year's business was rather less in all respects than the insurance business of the preceding year :—

	Insured letters.		Insured parcels.		Total.
	Number.	Value.	Number.	Value.	Number.	Value.	Insurance fees.
		R		R		R	R
1899-1900 .	106,499	2,75,46,632	215,623	7,07,41,629	322,122	9,82,88,261	2,62,225
1900-01 . .	103,163	2,55,46,132	214,823	6,99,88,205	317,986	9,55,34,337	2,54,849
Percentage of increase (+) or decrease (—) .	—3·13	—7·26	—·37	—1·06	—1·28	—2·80	—2·81

This decrease was mainly due to a falling off in the number of the letters and parcels insured in Bombay, Madras and Rajputana. In Bombay for several years past the insurance business has been of a fluctuating character, and the same may be said of Madras, but the figures for Rajputana have been larger during the last two years than at any previous period.

The average amount for which each letter was insured during the year under report was R248 as compared with R259 in the previous year, and the average amount for which each parcel was insured was R326 as compared with R328 in the previous year.

Claims for compensation.

22. There were 24 claims for compensation in respect of insured articles during the year under report, as compared with 13 in the previous year. Out of these 24 claims, 22 were admitted at once, the loss having been caused in 16 cases by fraud or negligence on the part of postal servants, and in the remaining 6 cases by highway robberies of the mails. The total amount paid in satisfying these claims was R7,759-3-11, out of which a sum of R1,873-6-2 was recovered, so that the whole loss accepted by the Department was R5,885-13-9, representing a percentage of 2·31 on the total amount realised from insurance fees, as compared with R2,302-8-3½ representing a percentage of 0·88 in 1899-1900.

Of the two cases in which claims were not admitted, one was still pending at the close of the year, but the other was finally rejected. In September 1900 a mendicant in the Madras Presidency, who had been at one time a village postmaster, sent an insured letter, said to contain R540 in currency notes, to an acquaintance in the Anantapur District who had promised to give him his daughter in marriage. At the same time he sent R3 by a money order, R543 being the full sum which he had agreed to pay in that month to make the compact sure. The letter was delivered in perfect condition with all the seals intact, but, on being opened, was found to contain several pieces of blank paper instead of the currency notes. The mendicant alleged that he had bought the notes at a village fair with what he had amassed by begging for his marriage, but had kept no record of the numbers, and was unable to point out the man from whom he had obtained them or to produce any corroborative evidence of his having placed the notes inside the insured letter. A prosecution was accordingly instituted against him, but it was found that he had absconded, and he has not yet been arrested. There have been various instances in the past of the use of the insured post in this manner as a new way of paying old debts, but this is the first reported case in which a native of the country has attempted to obtain a wife on the strength of an envelope containing nothing more valuable than pieces of blank paper.

Growth of insurance business since 1890-1891.

23. The total number of letters and parcels insured for transmission by post was 262,727 in 1890-91, 294,983 in 1895-96, and has now risen to 317,986. There has, therefore, been regular progress in the insurance business as a whole, though the rate of progress has been less during the last five years than during the period ending with 1895-96. There has been no change in the conditions governing postal insurance since 1890-91 except in 1898, when the limit up to which a postal article can be insured was raised from R1,000 to R2,000 and the procedure was simplified, the sender of an insured article being no longer required to declare its contents or to fill up any form for presentation at the post office.

In the case of letters, insurance is less resorted to than in the case of parcels, and except in Bengal, Madras and now Bombay, can hardly be said to be used to any appreciable extent. The total number of insured letters was 85,889 in 1890-91, 93,764 in 1895-96, and 103,163 in 1900-01, and to those totals Madras has contributed more largely than any other circle though the figures for that presidency show no real tendency to increase. They were 28,384 in 1890-91, 28,481 in 1895-96, and 29,296 in 1900-01. The only circle in which there has been any marked increase during the last ten years is Bombay, where the number of insured letters has risen from 8,850 in 1890-91 to 15 776 in 1900-01. The contents of insured letters are stated to be chiefly currency notes specially in the case of Madras, though for small sums it is more advantageous to use the postal money order system. The average amount for which a letter is insured, has tended to decrease during the last ten years. It was R270 in 1890-91, R262 in 1895-96, and is now R248.

The number of parcels that were insured was 176,838 in 1890-91, 201,219 in 1895-96, and 214,823 in 1900-1901, representing a percentage on the total number of parcels posted of 10·66 in 1890-91, 9·16 in 1895-96, and 8·02 in 1900-01. It will be seen that the increase during the last five years has been less than during the period ending with 1895-96, but this special class of business is liable to fluctuations and has been materially affected by plague. It is mainly in the hands of native traders and especially of Marwari firms, and the chief centres of the insured parcel work are Bombay, Bengal and Madras. The highest figures hitherto reached were in 1898-99 when the total number of parcels insured was 232,217, to which Bombay contributed 63,000 and Bengal and Madras each 43,000. During the last two years, however, there has been a falling off, mainly due to a decrease in the business in Bombay where the number of parcels insured has been about 50,000 only as compared with 53,000 in 1895-96 and also in 1890-91. On the other hand, there has been a consistent increase in Burma, and since 1895-96 a general increase in Rajputana. The number of parcels insured in the first-named province has risen to 13,000 in 1900-01 as compared with 6,500 in 1890-91 and 8,500 in 1895-96; while in Rajputana the figures have increased from 14,600 in 1895-96 to 22,000 in 1900-01. It may be added that although the amount for which a parcel can be insured has been raised since 1898 from R1,000 to R2,000, there has been no great change in the character of the insurance business. The average amount for which a parcel is insured is now R326 only as compared with R320 in 1890-91 and R311 in 1895-96.

(2) Value-payable post.

24. The total number of value-payable articles of all kinds sent through the post during 1900-01 was 2,608,888, as compared with 2,471,355 in the previous year. The total amount declared for recovery was more than 3¾ crores of rupees as compared with rather more than 3 crores in the preceding year, and the amount of commission realised was R5,87,611 as compared with R5,37,934 in the previous year. The number of value-payable articles posted at the Calcutta General Post Office and its town sub-offices was nearly 900,000; and this Department realised on the delivery of these articles, and paid over to the tradesmen of Calcutta a sum in excess of one crore of rupees, being more than 6 lakhs in excess of the sum similarly paid during the previous year.

The increase in the year's business mainly occurred under the head of unregistered parcels which showed an increase of 42·29 per cent. over the results of the previous year. There was a small falling off, however, under the head of registered parcels. The only other increase that deserves notice was in the number of registered letters and book packets.

25. There has been a marked and steady increase in this class of business during the last 10 years. The total number of articles sent by the value-payable post was less than 500,000 in 1885-86. The number had risen to 1,100,000 in 1890-91, to 1,850,000 in 1895-96 and to 2,600,000 in 1900-01. The declared value of these articles was one crore 16 lakhs of rupees in 1890-91, two crores 16 lakhs in 1895-96, and three crores 42 lakhs in 1900-01, while the commission realized by the Department stood at 6 lakhs in 1900-01 as compared with nearly 4 lakhs in 1895-96 and rather more than 2 lakhs in 1890-91. How largely the Calcutta transactions enter into the total figures at the present time has already been pointed out, and it may be of interest to note that the total number of value-payable articles posted in that city was [illegible] in 1890-91. The value-payable business in [illegible] large proportions. The number of [illegible] 1900-01 was over [illegible] years ago, [illegible] North-Western [illegible] the year's postings now exceed [illegible]. In Madras the [illegible] are at the presidency town where more than 200,000 value-[illegible] articles are now posted in the year. In the North-Western Provinces [illegible] Aligarh, Allahabad, Benares, Cawnpur and Lucknow are the centres [illegible] most of the value-payable business is done, while in the Punjab out of a [illegible] of 314,899 value-payable articles posted in 1900-01 no less than 171,000 [illegible] posted at Lahore, Delhi and Amritsar.

[illegible] The average value of value-payable articles of all kinds shows a regular [illegible]ency to increase. It was R10-7 in 1890-91, R11-8 in 1895-96, and [illegible] in 1900-01. This value varies a good deal in different parts of the country. In Calcutta, for instance, where the general characteristics of the value-payable business may be said to be well established, the average value has been [illegible] for a series of years, whereas in Bombay it has been steadily increasing and for the last three years has been in excess of R14.

Unregistered book packets constitute the largest proportion of the total number of articles sent by the value-payable post, and in the case of this particular class of articles the average value has been constantly decreasing. It was R4-6 in 1890-91, R4 in 1895-96, and R3-13 in 1900-01. These unregistered book packets comprise not only books but also many small publications, religious, educational and miscellaneous, and in the Punjab in particular constitute nearly two-thirds of the entire number of articles posted under the value-payable system in that province. There is a special reason for this in the fact that a system is in force in that province for sending copies of court documents by the value-payable post to the persons applying for them. The total number of unregistered packets was 451,141 in 1890-91, 787,932 in 1895-96 and 1,072,108 in 1900-01. There was an increase, therefore, of about 300,000 during each period, though the increase from year to year has been variable. The highest increase since 1890-91 occurred in 1898-99, and for two years now the total number has been in excess of one million. Next to unregistered book-packets come parcels, and with the constant increase in the number of value-payable parcels there has been also an increase in the average value of each parcel. This value was R9-8 in 1890-91, R9-9 in 1895-96 and R13 in 1900-01. Until [illegible] years ago only registered parcels were allowed to be sent under the value-payable system, but since the beginning of 1898-99 unregistered parcels also have been included in the scope of the scheme. The total number of registered parcels sent by the value-payable post was 446,399 in 1890-91 and 695,411 in [illegible]-96, and the total number of registered and unregistered parcels, taken together, was 920,154 in 1900-01. There has been, therefore, a steady increase in the total number of parcels sent by the value-payable post, but since 1898-99 the number of registered parcels has been declining and the total increase is due to the growth of value-payable unregistered parcels.

Registered letters and registered book-packets are shown together for the [illegible] of the returns, and the average value of articles of this combined class [illegible] higher than in the case of parcels and unregistered book-packets. It was R26-13 in 1890-91, R32-7 in 1895-96 and R39-15 in 1900-01. The [illegible] number, however, of registered articles sent by the value-payable post [illegible] comparatively small, and shows no great tendency to increase. The number [illegible] in 1890-91, 163,501 in 1895-96, and [illegible] in 1900-01.

The only remaining [illegible] railway receipts [illegible] delivery [illegible]

[illegible] sent by the value-payable post was 107,386 in 1890-91, [illegible] and has now risen to 376,593. There has, therefore, been [illegible] of nearly 150,000 of these receipts during the last five years. [illegible] value was R24-6 in 1890-91, R28-4 in 1895-96 and R35-5 in 190[illegible] [illegible]ried of late years with an upward tendency, but has never [illegible] R37.

[illegible] The value-payable post between this country and Ceylon was estab[illegible] [illegible]stance, in 1891, and from small beginnings the transactions with [illegible] have now become fairly considerable. The number of value-pa[illegible] sent from India to Ceylon was 5,562 in 1891-92 and had increa[illegible] [illegible] 1895-96. In the last three years there has been a distinct [illegible] with the result that the number of articles has more than do[illegible] the last quinquennial period, the total figures for 1900-01 being 37[illegible] [illegible]pared with 18,464 in 1895-96. A good deal of the business with Ce[illegible] [illegible] be expected, is done by Madras itself and other places in that [illegible] Trichinopoly, Tanjore and Madura, but Bombay, Cawnpore, Be[illegible] [illegible]lcutta all have a share in this business. In the reverse direction [illegible] [illegible]tions are still small. The total number of value-payable articles [illegible] [illegible] colony to India was 150 in 1891-92 and 315 in 1895-96. Du[illegible] [illegible] five years, however, the number has shown a tendency to incre[illegible] [illegible]ed 772 in 1899-1900 and at the present time is about 600.

Section IV.—Money orders.

[illegible] Appendix V(a) which has been introduced for the first time, show[illegible] money order transactions of the Department year by year for a peri[illegible] [illegible], separate figures being given for inland and foreign orders. The [illegible] of money orders issued during 1900-1901 was 13,420,713 as com[illegible] [illegible]2,952,483 in the previous year, and the total amount remitted was [illegible] crores as compared with rather more than 27½ crores in 1899-[illegible] [illegible] money orders constitute only a small percentage of the entire [illegible] of the year, their total number being about half a million.

There were 12,603 money order offices open at the close of 1900-190[illegible] [illegible]ed with 12,047 at the close of the previous year, the increase being [illegible] fact that in 1900-1901 an unusually large number of small village [illegible] [illegible]pened especially in Madras and the Punjab, almost all of which [illegible]ed with money order powers.

[illegible] Appendix V(b) shows the issues and payments of inland money [illegible] [illegible]ing to postal circles for 1900-1901 in comparison with the results [illegible] [illegible]ous year. Nearly 13 million money orders, including telegraphic [illegible] [illegible], of the aggregate amount of more than 26½ crores of rupees [illegible] during the year; and the commission realized amounted to [illegible] of rupees. These figures represent an increase over the tra[illegible] previous year, of 3·34 per cent. in the number of inland money [illegible] of 2·52 per cent. in the amount and of 3·05 per cent. in the com[illegible] [illegible] in previous years, the money order business of the Bengal [illegible] [illegible] of that of any other circle, and the number of orders [illegible]

[illegible] of the total [illegible] and North- [illegible] issues, [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] average amount of an inland money order was R20-5-0 [illegible] compared with R20-7-0 for the preceding year.

[illegible] In the same appendix separate figures are given for telegraphic [illegible] There was an increase in the number of these orders, but a [illegible] amount remitted by telegraph during the year. The postal com[illegible] on these orders amounted to R2,27,401 as compared with R[illegible] preceding year, while the cost of the telegrams which is paid [illegible] along with the postal commission, but credited to the Te[illegible] [illegible]rtment, amounted to R1,83,246, as compared with R1,75,298 in [illegible] year.

As usual these orders were more freely issued from Burma than othe[illegible] country, the total remittances by telegraph from that province [illegible] per cent. of the entire number for the whole of India. The paym[illegible] [illegible]ma were also larger in amount than in other provinces, with the ex[illegible] of Madras.

The average amount of a telegraphic money order for the year under [illegible] R118-2-0 as compared with R125-14-0 for the preceding year.

The rent money order system is in force in the Lower Provinces, the [illegible] [illegible]stern Provinces and Oudh and the Central Provinces. In the two [illegible] [illegible]ed provinces there was an increase in these transactions. The nu[illegible] money orders rose from 52,054 in 1899-1900 to 55,111, in the [illegible] Lower Provinces, and from 70,815 to 79,093, in the case of the [illegible] [illegible]stern Provinces and Oudh. For some years now, however, regular steps have been taken to ascertain what District Post establishments are self-supporting according to the prescribed tests, and to transfer their cost to the Imperial Post. Moreover, heads of circles are now required to submit every year an estimate of what they propose to take over, with evidence that the necessary conditions as to these establishments paying their way, have been complied with, and formal sanction is then given to the transfer of the charges with effect from the beginning of the ensuing official year. The total monthly charges accepted in this way were R1,703 in 1890-91, R1,679 in 1895-96, and R2,9[illegible]5 in 1900-01.

44. The following statement shows the transactions of the Post Office Guarantee Fund during the year 1900-1901. The balance at the credit of the Fund, including the nominal value of Government securities purchased on its behalf, rose from R7,54,748 on the 31st March 1900, to R8,00,427 on the 31st March 1901. The subscriptions realized from postal servants amounted to R27,954 while the amount decreed against the Fund, in connection with frauds committed by officials of the Department was R13,470 as compared with R12,508 in the previous year, and with an average amount of R15,581 for the last ten years A sum of R27,150 was added to the Fund on account of interest during the year under report:—

45. The number of complaints made by the public during the year under report was 24,035 against 22,393 in 1899-1900. There was, therefore, an increase of 1,642 or 7·33 per cent. over the previous year's figures. The proportion of cases in which complaints were found to be well-founded was 33·17 per cent. and the proportion of entirely groundless complaints was 39·79 per cent. of the total. In the remaining cases the investigation of the complaints had not been completed at the end of the year, or although the enquiry had been completed, no definite conclusion had been arrived at. The total increase is chiefly due to an increase of 1,164 in the number of complaints received by the Postmaster-General, Punjab, which is attributed to the gradual success of the steps taken by that officer to compel postmasters and other subordinate officials to register every complaint, and to the encouragement given to the public to bring to notice the deficiencies of the Department. It may be noted, however, that the proportion of complaints which proved to be groundless was higher in the Punjab than elsewhere.

In a Department like the Post Office, which depends entirely on human agency, there must be mistakes, and complaints on the part of the public are recognised as a valuable assistance by those who are responsible for seeing that the work of the Post Office shall be as efficient as possible. As to the general attitude of the Department, I may be allowed to quote the following extract from the circular instructions issued by me in 1892, instructions which have been enforced, year by year since then, in many individual cases :—

"It requires to be more generally realised that complaints are, as a rule, due to some mistake or neglect on the part of postal servants that has given rise to dissatisfaction or anxiety. That the Post Office has at times to bear a good deal of unjust blame is, of course, true, but the majority of complaints are made by persons who have legitimate cause for feeling aggrieved. It must be remembered that, although the transactions of an individual with the Post Office may be unimportant in themselves, they touch very closely his personal comfort and convenience, and if we are to retain the confidence of the public, it is most desirable that complaints relating to these transactions should be treated with consideration, and that officials of the higher grades should prove by their action that the profession of the Department, that well-founded complaints are welcomed, as furnishing a check on defective procedure and want of care, is an honest profession."

It may be added that constant endeavours are made to guard against the danger of postal enquiries being treated as mere matters of routine, and to ensure that complaints shall be put to their proper purpose. As the Department deals with persons of every class of life, it is inevitable that a number of these complaints should be made without the facts being ascertained and even without real cause, and the importance of giving facts and dates when addressing postal officials cannot be too often insisted on. It does not follow, however, that because complaints are classified as groundless they ought not to have been made. In many instances it is only when an enquiry has been carried out that it can be shown that blame does not attach to the Post Office.

Complaints regarding special classes of articles during 1900-01.

46. During the year under report 1,281 complaints were received regarding the special classes of postal articles which are shown in the following statement :

	Registered letters.	Ordinary parcels.	Insured letters and insured parcels.	Value-payable parcels and registered articles.	Total for 1900-1901.	Total for 1899-1900
Number of complaints received	552	519	64	146	1,281	1,213

Out of the total of 1,281 complaints 653, or 50·98 per cent., were found to be groundless, that is to say, the enquiry showed either that no loss had occurred, or that the loss had not occurred through the fault of a postal official, and 285, or 22·25 per cent. of the total were well-grounded. There was an increase in the number of complaints of 68 over the number of similar complaints received in 1899-1900, but it should be noted that the number of articles of these special classes dealt with during the year was in excess of the number that passed through the post in the preceding year by 365,599 in the case of registered letters, 74,701 in the case of parcels and 137,533 in the case of value-payable articles. It may further be pointed out that complaints which proved to be well-founded were made by the public in respect of only 131 out of 10,610,342 registered letters, 84 out of 2,679,109 parcels, 18 out of 317,986 insured articles and 52 out of 2,608,888 value-payable articles.

Offences by servants of the Post Office during 1900-01.

47. The number of cases in the several postal circles in which servants of the Post Office were found guilty of offences punishable by law is shown in Appendix VIII, and a summary of the figures is given on the margin. The total includes 55 cases of misappropriation of office cash, 94 money order frauds, 7 savings bank frauds, and 98 cases of theft from mails or post offices. Most of the remaining offences were committed in respect of letters, parcels, or other postal articles entrusted to the Post Office for conveyance. Among the offenders convicted or departmentally punished were 76 departmental postmasters and 17 clerks, 65 extraneous agents in charge of post offices, 99 postmen and village postmen, and 28 runners. The defalcations and losses amounted to R31,831-4-1 as compared with R37,302-9-1 in the previous year, and R37,371-4-9 in 1898-99. A sum of R16,887-10-2 was recovered from the offenders or their sureties; a sum of R3,112-10-6 was decreed against the Guarantee Fund; R39-2-1 were written off as finally lost and R11,791-13-4 remained unadjusted at the close of the year.

48. During the year there were 10 cases of money order frauds involving a sum of R2,663-8 and 5 cases of fraudulent withdrawals, amounting to R239-8 from the Savings Bank, in which persons not belonging to the Post Office were concerned. In addition to these, there were 48 cases of house-breaking or theft of Government money from the mails, apart from cases of highway robbery, which are separately dealt with. The total amount stolen was R2,012-12, of which R1,136-4-3 were recovered, R152-13-9 were written off as finally lost, and R723-10 remained unadjusted at the close of the year.

ghway obberies of mail dur- 1900-01.

49. There were 57 highway robberies of the mail during the year under report as compared with 56 in the previous year, of which 42 occurred in British territory, and 15 in Native States. Of the cases that occurred in British territory, 9 took place in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, 10 in Bombay and no less than 14 in Madras. For a series of years the number of highway robberies has been larger in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh than elsewhere, but the total figures of the two last years have been unusually high.

Three of the 57 cases which occurred during the year under report were unfortunately attended with loss of life, and in 19 other cases mail carriers were wounded by robbers.

In July 1900 a mail carrier and the escort by whom he was accompanied were murdered in the Banswara State of Rajputana, and the entire mail was stolen. Four men were arrested as being implicated in this murder, and sentenced on conviction, one to imprisonment for life, and the other three to imprisonment for 14 years each. In November of the same year a mail carrier in the Coimbatore district of Madras was found murdered at some distance from his beat, and the mails in his charge were never recovered. The police, however, succeeded in tracing four currency notes, which were enclosed in a registered letter that formed part of the stolen mails, to the possession of a person who could not account for it, and he was ultimately convicted of murder in the court of the Sessions Judge of Coimbatore and sentenced to death. In January 1901, three other mail carriers were killed, while conveying the mail between Wano and Khajuri Kuch, by a party of Mahsud Waziris, though on this occasion the mail contained nothing of value. This was one of five instances in which mails were robbed during the year in Waziristan.

There were only 19 cases in which Government suffered any loss, and the total loss amounted to R2,565-1-11. Of this amount, a sum of R1,105-1-11 was stolen from the mails in actual cash, while the balance, R1,460, represents the compensation that had to be paid for the loss of insured articles.

The entire mail was recovered in 14 cases, and a part of the mail in 28 other cases, while in the remaining 15 cases the whole mail was lost. Prosecutions were instituted in 17 instances, in 13 of which convictions were obtained. In addition to the cases of actual highway robbery mentioned above, there were four unsuccessful attempts to rob the mails, three of which took place in British territory and one in a Native State.

50. There were various other cases during the year in which mails were lost and postal property destroyed, some of which unfortunately were attended with loss of life. Casualties during 1900-01

In June 1900 a mail carrier failed to arrive at his destination in the Coimbatore district, Madras, and nothing could be ascertained regarding the fate of this man or of the mails which he was carrying. It is believed that he was either killed by a wild beast or drowned in the river Chinniar which had to be crossed in the course of his stage. In the following August a mail carrier in Burma was drowned in trying to cross a stream on a bamboo raft, but the entire mail in his charge was saved. Two menial servants of the Railway Mail Service were run over and killed by passing trains while incautiously walking across the rails, and two postal officials committed suicide. One of these men was a letter-box clearer who poisoned himself in order to avoid the disgrace of a prosecution for stealing stamps.

Owing to the severity of the winter and heavy falls of snow on the Gilgit and Leh roads, there were, I regret to say, an unusually large number of casualties among mail carriers on these roads. Nine men in all were killed and seven injured by avalanches. It is impossible to guard completely against these accidents if postal communication with Gilgit and Leh is to be maintained throughout the winter. The mail carriers are hill men of the country-side and are never required to carry the mails over dangerous parts of the road when bad weather is anticipated, but on several occasions during the year under report their own experience and knowledge of the signs of the weather seem to have been at fault. In April 1900 two of these men while carrying mails on the Gilgit road were swept away by an avalanche and killed, the dead bodies and the mails being subsequently recovered. In the following December four other mail carriers on the same line were buried under an avalanche: three of the men perished, but the fourth managed to extricate himself and escaped with some injury, while the mails were lost. In January 1901, five other mail carriers proceeding together were overtaken by an avalanche on the Tragbal pass also on this line. Three of the men were killed, but the other two were extricated alive and all the mails were afterwards dug out. The last accident occurred in February 1901, on the Leh line, when two out of four runners who were carrying mails across the Zogila pass were overwhelmed by an avalanche. One of these men lost his life under the snow, but the other was rescued by his comrades. All the mails were recovered.

In seven instances during the year mails were lost while the carriers were attempting to cross flooded streams, and in one case they were lost from a mail boat on its way from Diamond harbour to Dhoblahât. The boat was caught in a squall, and everything on board, including the mails, was washed away, though the boatmen escaped with their lives.

During the year 20 post offices were destroyed by fire and one was washed away by a flood in August 1900 in the Bilaspur district of the Central Provinces. There was also a case of dacoity in a post office in the Fyzabad district of Oudh, in which the branch postmaster and village postman were severely maltreated and the contents of the office safe were robbed. Six persons were arrested and sent up for trial, but only two of them were convicted. They were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment.

51. Appendix IX gives the entire establishment of the Department, both Imperial and District Post, the numbers in the different grades being shown separately for each postal circle; and a classified abstract of this appendix is given on the margin. On the 31st March 1901, the numerical strength of the Post Office staff was 69,065 as compared with 66,855 at the close of 1899-1900.

Signallers and other servants employed for telegraph work in combined offices	2,241	2,428	8·34
TOTAL	66,855	69,065	3·30

The chief increase was in the number of extraneous agents and mail runners owing to the opening of new post offices, and in the number of postal clerks and postmen due to the general development of postal business and to the improvement of delivery arrangements in a number of large centres. It may be noted that there were 160 pensioned soldiers of the Native Army on the staff of the Post Office, employed in various capacities, of whom 43 were Non-Commissioned Officers and 117 Sepoys. It may also be noted that the number of women employed in the Post Office was 57 only, all of whom with two exceptions were either Europeans or Eurasians. One of the two native women has been employed for some years past as a post-woman.

52. The charges incurred during the year on account of printing work done by private presses amounted to ₹5,278 as compared with ₹4,532 in 1899-1900 and ₹4,270 in 1898-99.

Section VIII.—Non-postal branches of the Post Office.

53. During the year under report 93 combined post and telegraph offices were opened, and 14 previously existing offices were closed. There was, therefore, a net increase of 79 in the total number of combined offices, as compared with a net increase of 140 during 1899-1900. Of these new combined offices, 90 were opened at places which had previously been without a Government telegraph office, and 57 at places where there had previously been neither a Government nor a Railway telegraph office.

During the year 27 new combined offices were opened in the Madras circle, 14 in Bombay, 13 in the Punjab and 10 in Burma, and the total number of combined offices open on the 31st March last, in each postal circle, will be found in Appendix X. On that date there were 1,939 Government telegraph offices in all, of which 248 were under the control of the Telegraph Department and 1,691 were combined post and telegraph offices under the control of this Department.

The total number of signallers employed in these combined offices was 2,354, as compared with 2,215 at the close of 1899-1900, and during the year under report 300 servants of the Post Office qualified as signallers. It may be added that there were 638 boys employed as messengers at combined offices as compared with 598 at the close of the preceding year.

54. In Appendix X also will be found the traffic statistics of combined offices, arranged according to postal circles. For the year under report there was an increase of 142,994 or 5·65 per cent. in the number of messages sent, of 134,890 or 4·95 per cent. in the number of messages received, and of R1,78,790 or 7·44 per cent. in the revenue realized over the figures of the previous year. The total revenue from messages despatched from combined offices amounted to R25,80,162, and exceeded the expenditure on the establishment of the office by R19,95,591.

In the year under report there has been, on the whole, an increase in the traffic as well as in the revenue. This increase is most marked in the Punjab, where it is attributed in large measure to the special telegrams sent in connection with the arrangements for despatching troops from India to China. There was also a considerable increase in Madras, Bengal, the Central Provinces, Sind and Baluchistan and Rajputana, due to the opening of new combined offices and to the general development of the telegraph traffic. There has been, however, a decrease of revenue in Bombay, due to the fact that in the preceding year the famine had caused an unprecedented increase in the revenue of that circle.

Telegraph receiving offices during 1900-01.

55. In addition to the work done during the year by the 1,691 combined offices, telegrams were received from the public at 1,694 post offices, as compared with 1,790, during the year 1899-1900, for despatch by post to the nearest telegraph offices. The number of telegrams booked at these receiving offices was 38,340 and the revenue realized was R40,426 as compared with 36,131 telegrams and a revenue of R33,526 during the previous year.

The number of telegrams similarly received at post offices in the Persian Gulf on account of the Indo-European Telegraph Department was 524 as compared with 309 in the year 1899-1900, and fees to the amount of R7,466-10-0 were realized, as compared with R3,394-1-0 in the previous year.

Progress of combined office system since 1890-91.

56. The total number of combined offices was 689 in 1890-91, 1,208 in 1895-96, and 1,691 at the end of 1900-01. There has, therefore, been an increase of more than a thousand combined offices during the last ten years. The greatest activity in opening offices of this character has been shown in Madras, where the total number of such offices is now 358 as compared with 245 in 1895-96 and 147 in 1890-91. During the last five years, therefore, more than a hundred combined offices have been opened in Madras, though it has to be remembered that the actual number of post offices in the Madras circle, including Mysore, is largely in excess of the number in any other postal circle. During the same period there has been a steady progress in various other parts of India, the total number of combined offices opened having been 68 in the Punjab, the same number in Bombay and 53 in Bengal. There has also been a good deal of development of late in this direction in Eastern Bengal and Burma.

In no branch of business undertaken by the Post Office, if I may express an opinion, has better work been done of late years, in the interests alike of the public and Government, than in the multiplication of these small telegraph offices. In 1883 this Department first undertook to arrange for telegraph work being done at post offices, and the success of the combined system depends entirely on the loyal co-operation of the two Departments concerned, the Telegraph Department and the Post Office. There have been various administrative questions to be discussed between the two Departments, but no friction of any kind has been allowed to arise, and at no time has it been necessary to take the orders of Government on any matter affecting the development of these combined offices. There is still much to be done in this direction, but I can only express my appreciation of the courtesy and fairness of mind with which successive Directors General of the Telegraph Department have dealt with every question that has had to be considered and decided.

SANITARY.

PLAGUE.

The 14th November 1901.

No. 2073.—In the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 2615, dated the 26th October, 1900, as modified by Notification No. 2998, dated the 21st December, 1900, it was ordered, under the powers conferred by section 2, sub-section (1), of the Epidemic Diseases Act (III of 1897), that the pilgrimage to the Hedjaz during the season of 1901 might be permitted, except in the case of persons residing in the Bombay Presidency (excluding Sind), the Presidency of Madras, the Mysore State, Coorg, the Aurangabad District of the Hyderabad State, the Jullundur, Gurdaspur or Sialkot District of the Punjab, or the Presidency, Burdwan, Patna, or Bhagalpur Division of Bengal, subject to certain precautions and restrictions which were imposed in view of the strong opinions of all European Governments, including Turkey, regarding the danger of plague being communicated to Europe, and in view of the danger of plague being spread by intending pilgrims from infected to non-infected portions of India.

Plague is widely prevalent in the Bombay Presidency. There is a considerable amount in the Mysore State, and some in the Baroda State. In the Madras Presidency the Salem and Bellary Districts are infected, and in Bengal Calcutta and a few districts chiefly in the Patna Division. Plague also exists in the Sialkot, Jullundur, Gurdaspur, Ludhiana and Hoshiarpur Districts and the Patiala State in the Punjab, in the Cities of Allahabad, Benares and Jaunpur and the Ballia District of the North-Western Provinces and in the Kashmir State. The remaining Provinces in British India are entirely free from plague.

In these circumstances it is not, the Governor General in Council regrets, possible to allow the pilgrimage during the season of 1902 without restrictions. The Government of India do not think it necessary to prohibit the pilgrimage from the uninfected portions of India during the ensuing season, but they consider it essential that careful precautions should be observed similar to those which were enforced during the past season. Karachi is unfortunately infected, and it is not possible to permit, as was done in 1901, pilgrim vessels to sail from that port. In order, however, to mitigate the inconvenience to pilgrims from parts of the north of India of the long journey to Chittagong, the Government of India have arranged, with the Porbandar State, to permit embarkation this year at the port of Porbandar, which is accessible by rail to pilgrims from Northern India.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to cancel the orders contained in the Notifications of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 2615, dated the 26th October 1900, and No. 2998, dated the 21st December 1900.

The Governor General in Council is further pleased to direct that, until further orders, no person resident permanently or temporarily in the Presidency of Bombay (excluding the whole of Sind, except the Karachi District), the Salem and Bellary Districts of the Madras Presidency, Coorg, the Sialkot, Jullundur, Gurdaspur, Ludhiana and Hoshiarpur Districts of the Punjab, the Benares Division and the Allahabad District of the North-Western Provinces, Calcutta, the Burdwan and Patna Divisions, and the Hazaribagh District of the Chota Nagpur Division in Bengal and the Native States of Mysore, Baroda, Kashmir and Patiala, shall be permitted to embark from any port in India with the object of making a pilgrimage to Mecca. If plague spreads, it may become necessary to extend the prohibition to other areas.

The Governor General in Council is further pleased to direct as follows:—

(1) That no person shall be permitted to embark with the object of making a pilgrimage to Mecca, except at the port of Porbandar in the Presidency of Bombay and Chittagong in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, and unless and until such person has been kept under observation in a place appointed for the purpose until such time as the Medical Officer in charge shall be satisfied that all risk of such person conveying the infection of plague has been completely abated, and unless such person is conveyed from the place of observation to the place of embarkation under the charge of an officer appointed for the purpose.

(2) That no passage tickets for the Hedjaz shall be sold except at the places appointed for the detention of intending pilgrims under observation.

The Government of India think it necessary to repeat the warning given last year that, although they have decided that the pilgrimage to the Hedjaz may be permitted, subject to the safeguards enumerated above, they are nevertheless convinced that intending pilgrims will be well advised in deferring their purpose until another season, in view especially of the stringent quarantine rules imposed by the Turkish Government, and of the inconvenience and harassment to which it is likely that they will be subjected on arriving in Arabia.

The 15th November 1901.

No. 2095.—Whereas the Governor General in Council is satisfied that there is a danger of an outbreak of dangerous epidemic disease at Ajodhya in the Fyzabad District of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, if pilgrims or other persons from the Salem and Bellary Districts of the Madras Presidency, the Bombay Presidency (including Sind), Bengal, the Jullundur, Hoshiarpur, Gurdaspur, Sialkot and Ludhiana Districts and the Patiala State in the Punjab, the Mysore and Baroda States and the Jammu Province of the Kashmir State are permitted to assemble at that place on the occasion of the ensuing Katki fair:

In exercise of the power conferred by section 2, sub-section (1), of the Epidemic Diseases Act (III of 1897), the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that no tickets to travel by railway to the stations of Fyzabad, Ajodhya, Ajodhya Ghat and Darshannagar on the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway and to Nawabganj, Katra and Ajodhya (Lakarmandi Ghat) on the Bengal and North-Western Railway shall be sold from the 18th to the 25th November 1901 (both days inclusive) within the Salem and Bellary Districts of the Madras Presidency, the Bombay Presidency (including Sind), Bengal, the Jullundur, Hoshiarpur, Gurdaspur, Sialkot and Ludhiana Districts and the Patiala State in the Punjab, the Mysore and Baroda States and the Jammu Province of the Kashmir State to any pilgrim or other person intending or believed to be intending to proceed on pilgrimage to the Katki fair at Ajodhya.
